

Secret Truman Files Opened To Eisenhower Advance Emissaries

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Truman administration opened its secret diplomatic and military files today for President-elect Eisenhower's advance emissaries, with Korea presumably heading the discussion list.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts—designated by Eisenhower to represent him at the State, Defense and possibly other departments—arrived last night and was ready to confer with top officials in those agencies today.

Way Paved For Jan. 20
His mission was regarded as preparatory to Eisenhower's conference Tuesday with President Truman. The purpose is to pave the way for a smooth transfer of the government from Democratic to Republican hands Jan. 20.

Indications were that Truman directed his officials to co-operate fully in providing information to Lodge, just as facts on the next government budget already are being laid before Eisenhower's special representative to the Budget Bureau, Joseph M. Dodge, who arrived Wednesday.

Lodge told reporters at Washington Airport last night he might have a confidential report ready for the Eisenhower-Truman conference. He said he had no hard-and-fast plans about how to gather his information, would begin today arranging appointments and anticipated no difficulty in securing access to confidential data.

War Most Urgent
Lodge, one of the early backers of Eisenhower for president, was defeated for re-election by Democrat John Kennedy, now a representative. When asked, Lodge said he did not "know anything" about his being mentioned as possibly Eisenhower's secretary of state or secretary of defense. He indicated he did not expect to accompany Eisenhower on the President-elect's planned trip to Korea.

At the State Department, Undersecretary David Bruce, in the absence of Secretary Acheson, reportedly was ready to give Lodge "any information he wants." Acheson is attending the United Nations sessions in New York City.

Officials said that, of all the problems which Gen. Eisenhower should be informed about, the most urgent is the discussion in the United Nations about how to get a truce in the Korean War. Specifically, the question is: How to break the U.N.-Communist deadlock over repatriation of prisoners of war?

Under President Truman's administration, the United States has insisted there must be no compromise on the principle of voluntary return of prisoners.

Dewey Briefs Eisenhower On Korean Conflict

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower awaited the arrival here today of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for a policy conference dealing with Korea and other problems facing the new Republican administration.

The New York governor, mentioned as a possible choice for a cabinet post, was scheduled to arrive by plane to talk over the general's forthcoming trip to the Korean War zone and to explore matters likely to come up for discussion when Eisenhower confers with President Truman next Tuesday.

Two Years To Serve

Another key Eisenhower supporter during the campaign, Seattle businessman Walter Williams, said in New York last night he also was flying to the general's vacation retreat today. But the announced callers' list for the day showed only Dewey.

Williams served as chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee. There has been talk he might get a major job in the new administration.

Dewey said last week he intended to stay on as governor for the two remaining years of his term. But reports persist that Eisenhower may ask him to be either secretary of state or secretary of defense.

Mamie Has Birthday

At Eisenhower's request, Dewey was stopping over at Augusta for about five hours on his way to Miami, Fla., for a vacation.

After his conference with Dewey, the general planned a private dinner party at the Augusta National Golf Club for Mrs. Eisenhower, whose birthday is today. She is 56.

The party tonight was arranged for the family. Here with the President-elect and Mrs. Eisenhower are her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, and their three grandchildren.

Out of today's Eisenhower-Dewey conference may come a decision on when the general will leave for Korea. He promised during the campaign that if elected he would go to the battle zone in the hope of finding some way to end the war.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said yesterday he knew of no plans for the general to visit Moscow as well. He made the statement when asked for comment on a New York dispatch to Paris newspaper, France Soir, that Eisenhower would go to Russia if preliminary contacts with the Soviet Union turned out satisfactory.

Republicans Expecting Aid Of Democrats To Shove G. O. P. Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans say they expect a lot of help from Democrats in shoving President-elect Eisenhower's legislative program through the new Congress.

And, while they look for ways to cut taxes in their new role as majority-holders, they talk of a prospective new drain on federal revenues: a 54-billion-dollar tide of maturing defense bonds.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, slated to be speaker of the House in the 83rd Congress convening Jan. 3, said he doubts the Eisenhower program will encounter much difficulty on Capitol Hill.

Margin Slim

Martin, speaker in the Republican-controlled 80th Congress of 1947-48 and since GOP floor leader, told his first post-election news conference in Washington yesterday:

"I am very confident the program will get large Democratic support. Who's going to vote against (a program designed to bring) peace and prosperity?"

Martin said he wasn't concerned over the fact that the GOP margin of control in the new House will be about four votes. The slim margin, he said, is a good thing for the country because it will "keep us alert."

Tax Cuts Foreseen

Martin said he believes a balanced budget should be the "ultimate objective" of the new Congress. There must be economies and budgetcutting, he said, to balance federal spending and income. But he also said he wants a tax cut and believes it will be possible to reduce taxes next year beyond the cut already provided by law. Automatic tax reductions are due during the next two years unless they are blocked by new legislation.

Martin wouldn't rule out the prospect of a tax cut even if the federal budget isn't balanced.

He said he believes tax relief and relief from other restrictions would give business an incentive to expand and would have the effect of producing more revenue from lower tax rates.

Nation's Business Finds Outlook Good After GOP Victory

By STERLING GREEN

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—Managers of the nation's business, consulting each other on the business outlook today, reportedly have found it good—for the next six or nine months at least.

Some members of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, holding a four-day, closed-door session here, acknowledged that the Republican election sweep heightened their optimism.

Prepared To Expand

None of the representatives, with the exception of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, chairman of Continental Can company, would tell reporters anything for publication yesterday. Clay waved a hand toward the hotel's assembly room where the council was holding its meeting and observed: "They all seem very happy to me."

Others individually had voiced belief that high rates of sales, production and employment are assured at least until government defense spending levels off sometime after mid-1953.

The belief was widespread that the GOP election sweep means a friendlier attitude toward business

Tammany Hall Leader Reveals Crime Politics

NEW YORK (AP)—State crime probes, digging into links between organized crime and politicians, yesterday heard a former judge say two underworld figures tried to force him out of his Tammany Hall district leadership.

Former General Sessions Judge Francis X. Mancuso testified, on the first day of the State Crime Commission's resumed public hearings, that two men "came to my club one Sunday afternoon" after the 1950 mayoralty election and suggested he quit as a Manhattan Democratic organization leader.

Mancuso identified the men as Joseph L. (Joey) Rao and Joseph (Joe Stretch) Stracci, reputed underworld characters. Mancuso said he refused the suggestion at the time, but later decided not to run for re-election to Tammany.

Both Rao and Stracci took the stand denied Mancuso's charge.

The former judge further testified that he knew a number of gangland figures from his Harlem district, adding: "I know everybody in my district—good, bad or indifferent."

Mancuso said he has known jailed gambler Frank Costello for 35 years and Costello once had visited his home.

Memory Lapse Wrecks A Ship

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—A chief officer who admitted his memory lapse led to the loss of a luxury liner on rocks in Alaskan waters Sept. 7 has been beached for six months.

He is Charles W. Savage, who was chief officer aboard the Princess Kathleen when it grounded and later sank near Juneau. There were 300 passengers aboard the ship but all escaped the vessel before it slipped from the rocks into a watery grave.

Justice Sidney Smith yesterday ordered Savage's master's license suspended for one year but recommended that he be given a ticket as a chief officer again after six months. Savage had a master's license at the time of the mishap but was acting as chief officer of the Princess Kathleen.

The seaman admitted through counsel that he was on watch on the bridge at the time of the accident. He admitted he had ordered the quartermaster to alter to a starboard course about 10 minutes before the lookout sighted land close at hand.

Then, he informed the justice, forgetting his previous order he ordered "hard to starboard" a few seconds before the ship slid high upon a rock.

Savage was commended by the government attorney for his candor.

Typhoon Casualties Heavy In Formosa

TEIPEH, Formosa (AP)—More than 100 casualties were reported caused by a typhoon which struck Southern Formosa Thursday.

(The dispatch did not elaborate on "casualties," which can mean either dead or injured or both.)

High officials of the Defense Ministry flew south today to assess damage and organize relief work.

Chubby Young Heir To British Throne 4 Years Old Today

By ROBERT S. F. JONES

LONDON (AP)—All Britain said happy birthday today to a small citizen with a long handle—His Royal Highness the Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Baren Renfrew, Lord of the Isles, and Prince and Great Steward of Scotland.

In other words—chubby-faced Prince Charles, heir to the throne of his mother Queen Elizabeth II—is 4 today.

For one thing, he's heir to the British throne now—grandfather King George VI died last Feb. 6. Consequently special flags were flown atop Buckingham Palace and government buildings, and booming guns saluted him from the Tower of London. The national anthem was played in his honor at the opening of the British Broadcasting Corporation's first morning newscast.

And it's his first birthday together with both his parents. On the first and second ones, papa—the Duke of Edinburgh—was still serving in the Navy.

Party At Tea-Time
Last year his mother—then Princess Elizabeth—and the duke were on their way home from a tour of Canada and a visit to the United States.

This year the Queen and the duke kept the day free of all official engagements, just like other parents, so they could spend all their time with Charles and his 2-year-old sister Princess Anne.

The day began—as usual—at 8 a. m. for Charles when he and his sister were awakened by nurse Helen Lightbody for their morning bath.

Next came breakfast and then the great moment of opening a mail bag of parcels. Aunt "Margot"—Princess Margaret—and Grandmother Queen Elizabeth are to come around for this.

Charles will be allowed to keep presents from relatives and his own special circle of friends. Others will be acknowledged and then passed on to children of members of the palace staff.

At tea time, a blue-blooded birthday party is scheduled.

The guest list is secret but it (Please Turn To Page 6, Col. 8)

Plane Wreckage Found; 11 Killed

SHELTON, Wash. (AP)—The charred and tangled wreckage of a Navy plane which exploded against a hillside Wednesday night with 11 men aboard has yielded four broken bodies and the remainder are being sought today.

The wreckage, scattered over a wide area of the forested Olympic Mountains foothill 15 miles northwest of here, was found by search parties last night.

They had been directed to the scene by residents of the area who saw the Seattle-based, four-engined plane pass low overhead and then crash with a roar and blinding flash into the 2,200 foot hill.

The plane was found at the 1,800 foot level. The bodies were burned beyond recognition and the Navy said there was "no reason to believe there had been any survivors."

Included among those lost in the accident was Capt. G. R. Dyson, 48, commander of Fleet Air Wing Four, who had gone along as an observer. The plane, on a training mission, was from a patrol squadron at Sand Point Naval Station, Seattle.

European Nations Neglect Farmer, Says Iowa Husker

PARIS (AP)—World corn-husking champion Elmer Carlson left for the United States today with the parting observation that the governments of some European countries are "just plain stupid" about helping their farmers.

Elmer, a strapping, 43-year-old Audubon, Iowa, farmer, said European governments are "taking the easy way out. They put high taxes on gasoline, automobiles and farm machinery. The results are that European farmers are years behind the times in mechanized farming methods—they cannot afford machines and they could not afford to run them once they had them."

Elmer was brought to Europe in mid-September by the Mutual Security Agency to demonstrate to farmers of France, Holland and Italy how to shuck corn with a husking hook—a hand tool used by American farmers to speed the job of ripping the dried husks from ears of corn.

MSA hopes to persuade European farmers to adopt the hook method, enabling them to husk more in less time and thus cut costs.

The Iowa farmer said, he was astonished to find husking hooks were not used in Europe, though they've been a common tool in America for half a century.

Home Fire Fatal To 9 In Family

WESTPORT, Mass. (AP)—A mother and eight children perished early today in a fire at their home while the only two survivors of the family, the father and a son, were away at work.

Mrs. Mary T. Audette, 44, and her children were suffocated by smoke and intense heat carried to their upstairs bedrooms from a fire in the kitchen.

The children ranged in age from 3 to 17.

The bodies of four of the younger children were found on the floor as though they tried to escape before being overcome.

The mother and three children were dead in their beds.

The children's father, Aladdin, 47, and an older brother, Daniel, 19, were at work on the overnight shift at the Berkshire Fine Spinning Mill in adjacent Fall River.

The heat in the upstairs bedrooms, although not heavily damaged by the flames, was so intense that firemen had to water down the rooms for 15 minutes before they could get to the bodies from ladders.

Airlines Organize North Polar Route

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP)—The airlines and the federal government started talks this week about North Polar air routes to Europe and who should fly them.

Representatives of the Air Transport Association—the airlines' organization—and several individual airlines including Pan American and Western, met with members of the Civil Aeronautics Board. Further and more detailed discussions are in prospect.

Trip Shorter

Much in the foreground of the discussions are the plans of Scandinavian Airlines System (SAS). SAS plans to ferry one of its new DC6B airplanes next week from the factory at Santa Monica, Calif., by way of Canada and Thule, Greenland, to Scandinavia. A second plane is to be similarly ferried later this year.

The airline hopes with these two trips to "prove" a new route from the U. S. West Coast to Northern Europe some 10 hours shorter than the existing route by way of New York City.

Denmark, Norway and Sweden have filed separate notes within the past six weeks asking the State Department for consultations on the Election Tally About Finished

DETROIT (AP)—While the Wayne (Detroit) County canvass of votes dragged on today—10 days after the Nov. 4 balloting—the Detroit Election Commission recommended to City Council that it spend $4,000,000 to acquire 3,000 more voting machines.

The commission said additional machines would speed the counting in future elections.

The county canvassing board expects to complete Wayne's tally on the nip-and-tuck governor's race tomorrow. It will be another week before it finishes totting up all the other races.

The official canvass from the state's other 32 counties and the unofficial Wayne tally gives Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams a lead of 7,924 votes over his Republican rival Fred M. Alger, Jr., with:

Williams 1,430,407

Secretary Lie Blames Smears For Suicide Leap

NEW YORK (AP)—The death plunge of United Nations counsel Abraham H. Feller has touched off controversy between U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie and the McCarran subcommittee, probing the loyalty of American employees of the world organization.

The 47-year-old Feller tore himself from his wife's arms yesterday and leaped to death from their 12th floor apartment.

Couldn't Stand Strain

Lie, who announced his resignation from his U. N. post Monday, said Feller killed himself because of the strain of defending U. N. employees "against indiscriminate smears and exaggerated charges."

A federal grand jury as well as Sen. Pat McCarran's (D-Nev.) internal security subcommittee has been looking into charges of subversive affiliations aimed at some American members of the Secretariat.

Robert Morris, counsel for the Senate subcommittee, said Feller himself was not a target of the investigation. In a statement in behalf of three members of the subcommittee—Senators James Eastland (D-Miss), Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) and Willis Smith (D-NC)—Morris termed Lie's assertion "irresponsible."

Feller was an $18,000-a-year general counsel and principal director of the U. N. Legal Department since 1946. He was credited with writing some of the most important statements of Lie.

Associates said Feller had been a close friend of Alger Hiss, former State Department aide convicted of lying to a grand jury when he denied passing official secrets to Whittaker Chambers, self-admitted courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring.

Lie, in a statement of newsmen, said Feller "has worked day and night under my direction to uphold due process of law and justice in the investigations against the indiscriminate smears and exaggerated charges."

"This placed him under a prolonged and serious strain," Lie said. "The terrible tragedy of his death is the result."

State Police Expect Busy Weekend With Football And Hunters

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan state police expected a busy weekend. They'll have two of the biggest football games in the country and the opening of the deer hunting season to handle.

The department said it will detail 125 officers and 48 patrol cars to handle traffic in the Ann Arbor and East Lansing areas and will send 23 officers from southern posts to the north lower peninsula and Upper Peninsula to help police the opening of the deer season.

The Civil Air Patrol will help police direct football traffic. Two radio-equipped planes will circle traffic lanes to spot reckless drivers and traffic jams and report them to police.

Bids Opened On 16 Road Projects

The State Highway Department yesterday opened bids submitted on 16 road improvement projects in the Upper Peninsula, including the widening of the intersection of M-35 and US-2, 41 in Escanaba and 12 gravel resurfacing jobs.

Low bidders on the projects were determined by the board which now will send the bids to Lansing for awarding of contracts.

The low bid on the Escanaba job was received from the Bacco Construction Company of Iron Mountain, which was also the winning bidder on a grading and drainage job in Keweenaw county.

Begin Widening In Spring

On the Keweenaw project, calling for 6.75 miles of grading and drainage structures and stabilized aggregate surface course on US-41 and M-26 between Mohawk and Phoenix, and 0.903 miles of the same type of road construction, with curb and gutter, on M-26 and US-41 between the Calumet and Hecla Railroad northeast through Mohawk, Bacco submitted a bid of $299,726.08. Higher bids on this job were received from A. Lindberg and Sons of Ishpeming and the Alpine Construction Company of St. Ignace.

The bid on the Escanaba project entered by Bacco was $108,708.80. The work will widen the junction to the west, north and south. Commencement date has been set at early spring.

The other projects and the winning bidders:

Ray Horning, Inc., of Flint, Mich., submitted a low bid of $108,075.85 on 0.510 miles of grading and drainage structures, concrete pavement widening and bituminous concrete, together with curb gutter on US-41 from Fisher Street to Hampton Street in Marquette.

Other bids were received from Claude Loomis of Manistee; L. W. Brumm of Marquette; Pierson Contracting Company of Saginaw; and the Bacco Company.

12 Graveling Projects

John K. Jackson of Ironwood submitted a low bid of $67,518.21 on reconstruction of two culverts carrying M-203 over Boston Creek and St. John's Creek, 7.6 and 7.8 miles respectively, northwest of Hancock. Other bidders were Nylund and Highhill of Ironwood; Prosch Construction Company of Iron River; and LeBrecque-Pearce Construction Company of Houghton.

The following construction companies submitted low bids on the gravel resurfacing jobs in 12 individual counties.

I. L. Whitehead Company of Sault Ste. Marie-Alger and Chipewau county projects; A. Lindberg and Sons, Inc. of Ishpeming-Baraga and Iron counties; Fox Valley Construction Company of Appleton, Wis.; Houghton, Menominee, Gogebic, Dickinson counties jobs; E. P. Brady and Company of Flint-Mackinac, Luce and Schoolcraft; Thornton Construction Company of Hancock-Ontonagon county.

Conservation Films Shown At Meeting Of Soo Hill PTA

SOO HILL—Raymond Roberts and L. C. Brown of the Department of Conservation presented a movie on fire prevention in Michigan's woods. The picture showed the methods this Department uses to fight fires and prevent more extensive waste of the state's resources and wild life.

The PTA met at its usual time Wednesday at the Soo Hill School. Two new members were present; Mrs. Leonard Porath and Mrs. Leslie Carlson.

Mrs. Andy Anderson, member of the program committee, announced that the December meeting will be more festive to celebrate the Christmas season. There will be a musical program provided by music students from Escanaba, and each person attending is asked to bring an inexpensive present for a grab bag.

The Gathering Clan: Deer Hunters Prepare To Open Season With A Bang

The big business of deer hunting is in full swing today in Northern Michigan.

At Rapid River, Manistique, Gladstone, Escanaba and other "starting points" for the hunt, red-coated men (and a few women) are doing their last-minute shopping before heading for camp.

Tomorrow morning the 16-day season will open with a bang.

The Saturday opening gives more hunters a chance to be in the woods than if the opener occurred in the middle of the week. This applies to local hunters as well, who can take the weekend off from work.

On Their Own

Once in the woods the oldtimers and the greenhorns will match wits with buck deer, whose antlers must extend at least three inches from the skull to be classified as legal game.

Some of the hunters will gallop through the brush in an effort to run down a deer, others will sit tight on a ridge or runway to wait for the deer to come to them. Some hunters like tracking snow, while others would prefer bare ground.

No matter what the method of hunting, there is one conclusion that all hunters will agree to: Getting a buck is largely a matter of being in the right place at the right time.

Besides deer, the hunters have the opportunity to bag a bear as a part of their hunting license privilege. Both deer and bear are regarded as plentiful in most Northern Michigan sections this year.

Running Half-Time

The usual warnings have been issued by the Conservation Department and sportsmen clubs about gun safety and how to avoid becoming lost.

But it is certain that a dozen or more deer hunters will be casualties before the season ends and others will be wounded. Additional hunters will become lost and cause their hunting partners many anxious hours.

Back in the cities the industries will be running at half-speed production because of the hunting season absenteeism. But "up north" in the state the stores and shops and suppliers will be doing a boom business with the hunting trade.

Conditions Are Good

The weather outlook is favorable for the deer hunters, at least at this writing.

There is snow in most woods areas farther north in the central Upper Peninsula, while the ground is bare to the south and east. Roads are in good condition because of the dry weather.

Once the season opens the majority of the hunters will welcome a light snowfall and colder weather. Because of the warm weather extending late into the fall hunters are more likely to encounter bear. Early cold weather drives the bear into earlier hibernation.

The number of hunters this year is expected to set a record in the state.

Survey Sought

The new plat accepted by the commission omits 20th Street from 6th to 7th Avenues South. The majority of property-owners had objected to the engineering department plan because of difficulties in lot lines.

The proposal for platting of this acreage was referred back to the Escanaba City Council, the commission for a public hearing at its last meeting. The new proposal will be recommended to the council at a future meeting.

The planning commission last night also moved to ask the city council to authorize a survey of the city to determine existing conditions, on the basis of which the commission can review zoning in the city. This information would be used by the commission in making recommendations to the council, following which new zoning regulations could be adopted by the council.

Study Park Roads

A meter survey reveals that there are 210 non-conforming uses in Class A residential area alone. The Clemishaw report of 1945 showed 173 non-conforming uses in all city zones. Robert Clayton, planning director, reported.

The present zoning ordinance is 23 years old and has not been strictly enforced because a survey of housing and non-conforming uses was not made when it was adopted. Some present non-conforming uses date back many years, the commission was advised by A. V. Aronson, city manager.

Following a review of proposed access roads to Ludington Park, the commission last night referred the matter to a traffic study committee.

Members of the commission also discussed the present trailer ordinance and agreed the ordinance was "a good one." A proposal for changing the ordinance to permit parking in home yards was tabled, but the commission recommended that owners of house trailers be allowed to store them on their property, if they are kept in garages.

Menominee Radio Station On Air

MENOMINEE — Menominee's new radio station, WMAW (for Michigan and Wisconsin) went on the air today at 6 a. m. on a frequency of 1340 kilocycles under authority of the Federal Communications Commission. WMAW will broadcast 18 hours daily from 6 a. m. to 12 midnight except Sunday, when broadcasting will start at 7 a. m. The station will be affiliated with the American Broadcasting Company (ABC).

The new station began broadcasting at an initial power of 100 watts, but has an application pending before the FCC for increase of power to 250 watts. Early action, possibly within three to four weeks, is expected on the application for the power increase. The 100 watt power will give the station a transmitting range of about 40 miles.

WMAW is owned by the Green Bay Broadcasting Company of which Ben A. Laird of Green Bay is president. This company operates Radio Station DUZ, one of Green Bay's three radio stations. Ken Peterson is manager of WMAW and has been here for the past six weeks supervising preparations for the opening of the station.

The American aspen is the most widely distributed tree in North America, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Stroke Fatal To Mrs. A. O'Brien

MRS. O'BRIEN

Mrs. Anna O'Brien, 327 S. 16th St., widow of Matt O'Brien, and senior member of a well known Escanaba family, died at 12:15 a. m. today at St. Francis Hospital, as the result of a stroke which she suffered Monday. She was 87.

She was born at St. James, Mich., April 16, 1865, and had lived in Delta County the past 65 years. Her husband died in 1923.

She was a member of St. Patrick's Church.

Surviving are four daughters and two sons, Mrs. William J. (Justa) Daniels, Mrs. C. C. (Pat) Anderson and Mrs. Charlotte Oumette, Escanaba; Mrs. Felix (Helen) Herbeck, Jackson; Roy, Escanaba, and Michael, Gladstone. She also leaves five grandchildren and four great grandchildren and one brother, Don Boyle of St. James.

The body was taken to the Degan Funeral Home where friends may call beginning at 7 p. m. Saturday. Because of the Forty Hours Devotion at St. Patrick's Church the funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's Church Monday at 9 a. m. The Rev. Francis A. Mallenbach will officiate. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

10 Commandments Of Hunting Safety Reported By State

With thousands of hunters once again afield, problems in the safe use of weapons become all important.

Conservation department statistics indicate that 25 hunters will die and about 180 will suffer from gunshot wounds during the season.

And with generally more liberal seasons this year, numbers of hunters marked for death or injury may actually exceed those estimates.

In case of accident, hunters are required by law first to give assistance to the injured, then to report to the nearest state police post or sheriff's office.

And the hunter who injures or kills another should realize that for five years after the accident occurs he will be forbidden by Michigan law to pursue a hunting license of any kind.

But accidents probably could be wiped out entirely if hunters would follow a few common sense rules. The Ten Commandments for Shooting Safety are:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp, or home.
3. Always be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble.
5. Be sure of your target before you fire.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not wish to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

17 Deltans Pass Induction Exams

Seventeen Delta County men this month passed induction examinations at Milwaukee and have reported for army training at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

Pre-induction examinations this month were passed by 10 Delta men, and only one in the pre-induction group was rejected.

Induction orders have been mailed to 15 Delta County men who will be taken to Milwaukee by chartered bus Dec. 8 for examination. The December pre-induction call is for 22 men.

List of Inductees

The men who were inducted this month were as follows:

Harold A. Nelson and Robert N. Flath of Bark River, Rte. 1; Frank J. Paquin of Gladstone, Rte. 1; Gordon C. Herbst of Escanaba, Rte. 1; Wilbur V. Oman of Rapid River, Rte. 1; Joseph J. Schleis, John A. Prokos, Willard K. Kempainen, William J. Creteens, John W. Stoneman, Henry A. Kasbohm, of Escanaba; Clayton S. Kanerva and Bernard D. LeClaire of Rock; Robert J. Lewis of Ensign; Thomas K. Way of Wells; and Charles L. Gendron and Richard L. Stade of Gladstone.

Those in the pre-induction group passing examinations were Archie A. Terrian, Thomas G. Riedy, John P. Frost, Richard H. DeGrand, Joseph A. Reese and Patrick E. Chevalier of Escanaba; Robert L. Cole and Lawrence E. LaPlant of Gladstone; Neil W. Hallinen of Rock, and John J. Pepin of Escanaba, Rte. 1. Three men in the original pre-induction group were transferred to other boards and one man enlisted.

December Induction List

Orders to report for induction examination Dec. 8 have been mailed to the following:

Robert J. Wallo, Escanaba, Rte. 1 (order to Iron River); Joseph P. Sheddore, James Patrick Benard, Alvin R. DeGraves (order to Milwaukee); Robert G. Katarinic (order to Detroit); Gordon A. Gustafson (order to South Range); Robert C. Frazer, James R. Myers and Harold Peter O'Donnell, of Escanaba; Rudolph Jugo (order to Neeah, Wis.), of Gladstone; Edward J. Charbonneau (order to Milwaukee) and Clayton J. Vandresse of Gladstone, Rte. 1; Ray H. Laituri (order to Negaunee) of Rock; Wallace J. Finstrom of Nahma and Lionel J. Guidon of Cornell, Rte. 1.

Wingless Plane Falls In Field But Inventor Is Not Giving Up Yet

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—A wingless plane that made a forced landing in a plowed field on its maiden flight yesterday, is going to be tried again after its builder, William E. Horton, does some re-designing.

"Back to the drawing board," Horton quipped to newsmen. "I'm convinced the design is sound, but it needs a lot more improvements—a lot more development."

The strange-looking craft took off from Orange County Airport yesterday, flew low over the ground for about a mile, dipped dangerously near high tension lines, but landed without damage in an open field.

Horton, who has worked almost alone for the last 18 months on the experimental plane, had planned to be in the air for about an hour on the flight. Instead, he was aloft only two minutes.

The plane has stubby eight-foot control flaps on either side, is 26 feet wide and 40 feet long. The fuselage is virtually a wing in itself.

British Leader Ill

CARBOROUGH, Eng. (AP)—Anxiety was expressed today for the seriously ill chairman of the Conservative party, Lord Woolton, who suffered a relapse last night.

The 69-year-old political leader became ill early last month. He underwent an operation for a perforated appendix, and peritonitis and lung complications set in.

With Deer Hunters - - - Camp And Trail News

Shortly after J. T. Sharpsteen, now of Flint, landed his plane at the Escanaba Airport early this afternoon, the Michigan Camp regulars took off for Alfred along with their "covered wagon" loaded to the hilt. In the party in addition to Sharp are Hal Gerletti, Tarz Johnson and Charles Blum of Chicago.

Paul "Dizzy" Trout, veteran Detroit Tiger moundsman who was a part of the million dollar trade with the Boston Red Sox last season, is making his annual stop at Bill Casey's camp at Ross' Landing near Northland. The famed baseball pitcher will be joined by another Tiger great, Hal Newhouse, when the boys celebrate Leonard "Sport" Moreau's birthday Monday.

Back at the DeShambo headquarters near the Lost Forty on the Big West for his 20th consecutive season is Whitey Moberg. Hunting with him will be Billy Schultz, Allen Hynes and Frank Kroll, also old-timers in that area.

At the Bisdie cottage at Garth Shores for the opening of the season will be Bill Bisdie, Fred Juetten, Mac McDonald and Jim DeLaire. They will hunt on the Stonington Peninsula.

Another Garth Shores hunter is "Dug-out" Johnny Bolger who aims to bring down his buck on his holdings there.

Biggest bear ever reported taken in Michigan was an estimated 600-pound one shot in 1943 in the Dead Stream area by firearm hunter and Houghton Lake area native, Arthur Jackson.

William "Bill" Casey and Charley Longline left yesterday afternoon for Casey's Camp at Ross, near Northland. Among members of the 14-man "crew" leaving tonight are Jim Casey, Benny Shomin, Sport Moreau, Joe Garant, Emory Skradski and Earl Walker, of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson and family of 1316 N. 22nd St. are leaving tonight for their camp near Perkins to spend two weeks of hunting. Accompanying them will be Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trombly of Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lane of Menominee.

Art Skoglund of Gladstone and Harold H. Johnston, Escanaba, are opening the season at the Johnston camp, "Paradise" at Old Kates.

Opening weekend of the season will find a group of hunters at the Paul Richter camp at Kates Lake near Northland, including Richter, Carl Wickman, Nels Jensen, John Fransen and Earl Iverson.

Leaving for Victor Larson's camp, "Trail's End," on the Escanaba River are John C. Bennett, Dr. Harold Q. Groos, Victor Larson and Mark Hansen of Escanaba and Henry and Otto Claus, Dan Wilson, Art Siema, Dave Olson and Rudy Blash, who came from Chicago to join them.

The number of deer killed by hunters each year in the Upper Peninsula has increased rather steadily since 1930, as the population continues its upward swing. About 15,000 were shot in 1930, while hunters took a computed 36,000 last year.

Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee Health department, has left for Watersmeet, Mich., to hunt from

School Lunch Deficits Down

Two Delta County school districts balanced school lunch budgets in October and two showed surpluses, figures from County Supt. Hagle Quarnstrom reveal.

Escanaba public schools and those in Escanaba township had no deficits this month. Bramp-ton township had a surplus of $1.87 and Fairbanks township had a surplus of $18.64.

The remaining six school districts had deficits totaling $690.13. The highest deficit for any one district was $310.47, reported by Bark River township.

Deficits for other districts were as follows:

Ford River — $38.38; Maple Ridge — $75.59; Nahma — $17.93; Wells — $98.86; Rapid River (three townships) — $149.80.

Four cherries and tomatoes have been received and will be distributed to Delta schools, along with other commodities scheduled to be shipped here this month.

In September, schools in the county had deficits totaling $1,585.38. These were due to the cut in state reimbursement, from seven to five cents per child, and because no commodities were received. Escanaba township was the only district without a deficit in September.

Pet Spaniel Rides Pontoon Of Seaplane And Gets Home Safely

SEATTLE (AP)—It was a nice routine flight for pilot Roy Aitchison as he gunned his seaplane along at 2,000 feet until he looked out a window. Then he nearly froze with fright.

What he saw was the Aitchison family's pet cocker spaniel pup, Curley, clinging desperately to a pontoon. The dog's tail was toward the front and his fur was blowing like crazy.

Aitchison thought it was hopeless, he related here yesterday, but he throttled the plane down to 60 miles an hour. Then, making a slow, flat turn, he flew back to nearby Lake Sammamish with Curley still hanging on.

In the wash of the landing, he feared the dog would be lost, but the plucky pup hung on. And then the tears of Bill, 4, and Mrs. Aitchison, who had seen the takeoff but couldn't warn her husband, turned to cheers. And all joined in giving Curley a good ruddown.

Don't Be A 'Lost Hunter'

With deer and bear seasons lurking thousands into the north woods, a few always manage to get lost. To stay out of the "lost hunter" fraternity, heed these suggestions:

Once camp has been set up, locate and mark location on your map.

Acquaint yourself with base features of map.

When leaving camp, orient yourself with compass and map. Know direction headed.

Note local names of landings, bridges, etc.

Start return trip so as to get back before dark.

If camped with group, and you decide to hunt alone, do not forget to advise others.

Familiarize yourself with boot prints of party members.

Should you get lost, remember these suggestions:

Consult compass for direction.

Do not "argue" with compass. Try to avoid getting panicky. Sit down, smoke if necessary, and listen for car or train sounds.

If it appears you will not find your way out before dark, select sheltered spot and gather wood to last through night.

Build fire.

Do not waste ammunition; conserve your strength, food and water.

If still lost, and tracks are snow covered in morning, walk due east, south, west or north for about a half-mile. Backtrack to fire and build it up. Repeat process in other three directions, returning to fire each time. Searchers will find tracks and come to your fire.

Remember, the searching party will not be organized until it is this morning.

The men are 26 year old Emery Walker (2 to 20 years for breaking and entering in the nighttime in Ingham county) and William Huthmance, 54, (serving life on a fourth offense alcoholism charge).

Gladstone troopers aided in the search by setting up road barricades on M-35 near Perkins and on US-2, 41 near Rapid River.

The state capitol at Richmond, Va., was designed by Thomas Jefferson after the Maison Carree, ancient Roman structure at Nimes.

For a Delicious Treat—Try This

By MARY MANNING

Here is milk that is really delicious and refreshing. I'm speaking of wonderful, wonderful FAIRMONT MILK. It's the "Grow" Food and it's the "Go" Food. That's why grown-ups and teenagers are urged to drink it every day. For no matter how old we may be we never outgrow our need for milk.

And there are so many exciting ways to serve milk we should never be at a loss to find some way that will appeal to every member of the family.

Try this recipe for Milk Fruit Punch. It's quick, easy, delicious.

MILK FRUIT PUNCH

Combine 1½ cups Fairmont Frozen Strawberries and juice with 1¼ cups orange juice and ½ cup lemon juice. Add ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt and 6 cups chilled Fairmont Milk. Beat with a rotary beater. Pour into cold glasses. Garnish with mint leaves when in season and serve. Serves six.

And be sure to try a glass of cold, fresh Fairmont Milk just as it comes from the carton. You'll like the way its deep-down creamy goodness pleases, refreshes, satisfies.

Hydrogen Bomb Can Only Kill; It Has No Beneficial Purposes

DESPITE the lack of official confirmation by the Atomic Energy Commission, there seems to be little doubt that the American government has fired the first hydrogen bomb in world history.

Uncensored letters from the area of the Eniwetok Islands report the results of a blast of tremendous scope, a magnitude of intensity that apparently could be created only by the explosion of a hydrogen bomb. The AEC has indicated that an announcement will be made soon describing at least some of the results of the atomic tests in the Eniwetok area.

It is, of course, extremely reassuring to Americans that our government continues to hold the lead—and apparently by a decisive margin—in the development of atomic weapons, including the ferocious hydrogen bomb. It serves to stabilize world peace because it is an effective deterrent to Communistic acts of aggression by Soviet Russia and her satellites.

The secrets of atomic energy, now being developed at a rapid pace by American scientists, serve peaceful as well as armament purposes. In fact, atomic developments presage an entirely new era for improving humanity's standards of living.

Not so, unfortunately, with the hydrogen bomb. It is a weapon of war, solely and a terrible weapon, at that. Scientists have reported that they know of no purpose to which the hydrogen bomb, or the knowledge of its manufacture, can be made for the improvement of man's living conditions. Its only purpose is to destroy and it is capable of accomplishing that on a scale never before attained by human ingenuity.

Deer Hunters, Be Careful!

THE deer hunting season opens tomorrow for the annual two-weeks "run". It promises to be one of the biggest deer seasons in Michigan history from the standpoint of the number of hunters participating and probably also in the number of deer killed.

We hope—but sincerely doubt—that the 1952 season will produce another record—in the fewest number of hunters killed or wounded.

It is a known fact that nearly all of the deer hunting accidents could be avoided if hunters exercised reasonable caution. The most important rule for deer hunters, of course, is to know and be sure of their target. In the Upper Peninsula, at least, only antlered deer are legal game. If the hunter holds his fire until he is sure he sees antlers, he is not likely to kill a hunting companion by mistake.

The number of persons and objects that have been shot mistakenly for deer by quick-triggered hunters indicates that the rules of caution and common sense are not well observed. Or at least not well enough observed.

Think before you shoot. Remember it is far better to miss your chance to fill your license than it is to shoot another hunter.

TREASURY'S LOSS, PEOPLE'S GAIN

(Duluth News Herald)

If existing tax laws are not changed, most of the tax increases of last year will terminate on or before April 1, 1954. A research staff employed by congress estimates the reduction in federal revenues at $5.5 billion dollars per year.

No one can say, now, what our national needs and means will be by the spring of year after next. Maybe we can make even greater reductions; maybe it will be necessary to continue the emergency rates to cope with conditions still unknown to us.

We can, however, be sure about a few things. If the taxes can revert to the very things. Eight and a half billions left in the pockets of income earners and consumers, and in the accounts of corporations will not be lost to civilization. People and companies can use it to pay off indebtedness, to buy more and to give away more.

Tax reductions are a particularly effective form of pump priming. They stimulate useful economic effort, strengthen our systems of production and distribution and frequently stimulate business to such an extent as to make up, in added transactions and values, for part of the expected "loss."

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Premier Pinay of France has thrown out feelers for an early—if not immediate—visit to the United States for a conference with General Eisenhower and/or President Truman.

At stake in this visit is the entire structure of our carefully built up Western European defense. We have been so busy with our own elections that the public doesn't realize that this now hangs in the balance.

This was the reason why President Truman sent a special courier to Eisenhower last week carrying a secret communication.

Briefly, here are the reasons for Premier Pinay's proposed pilgrimage and the vital factors awaiting decision in West Europe:

1. The French are sore as blazes over our discussion of the Arab demands for North African independence at the U. N. They even threaten to pull out of NATO if we don't back them up against the Arabs.

2. The French feel they have been bled white in Indo-China and are about ready to dump this in our lap in the same way the British dumped Greece.

3. The Pinay government is in danger of being voted out of office. Yet it's one of the most efficient governments France has had and definitely pro-American. It will need political support from the U. S. A. to stay in power, and that political support will have to come either in regard to the Arabs or Indo-China.

4. A huge Chinese Communist army is reported poised on the Indo-Chinese border. If there's peace in Korea, more troops and more material can feed the Communist "revolt" against the French.

Perhaps worst of all, and hanging over it all, is the growing anti-Americanism, growing isolationism of the French. In the same way that many Americans are getting more isolationist, so are the French. They are increasingly suspicious of Germany, are bucking the United European Army, and it looks as if the great strides toward peace and unity might go down the drain.

Divide and rule is the Kremlin's strategy, and it will take super-human steps by an inspiring leader to weld us together again with our allies.

This is the greatest problem the new President will have to face for, whereas Korea is a very small war, what's happening in Europe is planting the definite seeds of another world war.

CABINETEERS

Sinclair Weeks, the Boston banker who came out for Eisenhower against Taft at a crucial moment before the Chicago convention, probably will not fulfill his great ambition to follow in the footsteps of his father—but he is likely to get the No. 1 diplomatic post—Ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Because Eisenhower won't appoint men to his cabinet from one state (Lodge and Weeks of Massachusetts) Weeks will probably miss the opportunity to be Secretary of Defense, an ambition he has cherished since his father, John W. Weeks, was Secretary of War in the Harding-Coolidge cabinets.

It was the elder Weeks who played an important part in the life of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, giving him a promotion at a psychological time.

MacArthur, then a brigadier general in the Philippines, anxiously watched other comrades getting promoted, finally had his father-in-law, Edward T. Stotesbury, partner of J. P. Morgan, call on Secretary Weeks, remind him of the Stotesbury contributions to the GOP. Weeks promptly made Doug a major general.

Today, his son, Sinclair, will get first call on the No. 1 ambassadorship—to London—which, in view of Queen Elizabeth's coronation in June, is quite a plum.

Note—Truman's ambassador to London is a Republican, Walter Gifford, head of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and he has resigned.

PENTAGON SHAKE-UP

Top generals of the Defense Department are expecting a political shake-up.

Politics isn't supposed to enter the military picture. However, everyone in the Army and Navy plays it—from the generals down to the colonel's wives—and this includes the White House too.

In the present case, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, is expected to be eased out. "Brad" started being personally for Ike. But as the campaign progressed, he couldn't take Ike's statements about Korea, switched to Stevenson.

Bradley was Eisenhower's top field commander during the European invasion, but nettled Ike a bit with his recent book when he revealed, more frankly than any other military man, the friction with Field Marshal Montgomery during the Battle of the Bulge and the manner in which Eisenhower had appeased Monty.

Since then Ike and Brad haven't been quite so chummy.

Bradley's place as head of the joint chiefs probably will be taken by General "Beetle" Smith, now head of central intelligence, former chief of staff to Eisenhower. General Joe Collins, in turn, probably will be replaced as army chief of staff by General Van Fleet, whose letter re South Korean troops played a part in the election campaign.

Remote, Romantic 'Outer Banks' Will Soon Become National Park

By HENRY LESENE

RALEIGH, N. C.—(NEA)—The remote and romantic, fascinating and fabulous "Outer Banks"—sometimes only narrow strips of windswept sand jutting out into the Atlantic almost the length of the North Carolina coast—are now on their way toward becoming another national park.

This development—long a dream of state officials—comes at a time when this corner of the world is becoming more accessible and more familiar to Americans. It comes, too, at a time when the long-isolated islanders are being touched more and more by the mainstream of American life.

The area has communities which have done without jails, policemen, mayors or even tax collectors for as far back as anyone can remember. It is sometimes called the birthplace of America. It is the land, too, of the roaming wild ponies and the toy deer.

Jutting far out into the Atlantic and brushed by the Gulf stream, it is a fisherman's paradise, and virtually all the communities on the Outer Banks are centers of commercial and sports fishing.

Beaches on the seaward side are strewn with sand-covered ribs and mast sections of ill-fated ships. For this is the land, too, of storied Cape Hatteras, graveyard of the Atlantic, whose famous lighthouse was abandoned in the 1930's because of the encroaching sea, but was finally saved by quickly erected sand fences and the planting of hardy beach grasses.

Many of the islanders are descendants of the survivors of shipwrecks in early times. The natives' peculiar dialect is sprinkled with Elizabethan phrases. Many Old World customs prevail, such as the practice in the village of Rodanthe of observing Christmas in January.

North Carolina has acquired some 8000 acres and expects shortly to acquire some 22,000 more to set up the park. Two foundations created by the children of the late Andrew Mellon contributed $618,000 on condition the state furnishes a similar sum.

park on the Outer Banks was first proposed by Congress in 1938. Oil

JOB WANTED—In the so-called good old days there was but one way to apply for a job. It was always a job. There were no "positions" in the United States before 1932.

You simply walked up to the boss, asked him if he needed any men, and said you were looking for work and wanted to work for him. If he wanted you he said yes. If he didn't he said no. That's all there was to it.

Now with the self-help articles and the psychological approach to everything, the young man or woman is offered copious advice on "how to apply for a position."

This presupposes a considerable amount of self-examination on the part of the applicant. They might also take a few aptitude tests and see to it that they wear the right clothes on their backs and a proper expression on their faces.

THE RIGHT APPROACH—The whole pattern of behavior in relationship of job applicant and personnel manager has become a stylized ceremony, according to the self-help writers.

The applicant is to wear certain clothes, conduct himself in a prescribed manner, offer helpful little hints on how he could improve the business if he should be employed, and always use his handkerchief when blowing his nose.

The employer, of course, is expected to cooperate in this little drama by following the rules. He will be dignified, courteous, friendly. He will not say "Youse would be a square peg in a round aperture in our organization."

DISCOURAGING ASPECT—Fortunately for the younger generation the oldtime boss man is rapidly fading from the management picture.

He was the type who would, when a job applicant appeared, receive him like the latest victim for the Roman arena.

"So you think you want to work for us, sonny? Did your Mother send you over?" he would ask with heavy sarcasm.

After considerable badgering the boss would get down to business with the interview. How old are you? Where have you worked before? Do you know anything about this job?

And you didn't tell the boss what you were worth—he told you. When you proved you could handle the job you got a raise to the going rate. The idea was that you should be lucky to find an employer who would let you train in his establishment.

TODAY'S OPPORTUNITY—According to the articles written by those who no doubt know all about finding lucrative jobs, today's applicant beards the boss man and makes him like it.

The boss is told, not listened to. The applicant says to the boss that he (the applicant) has studied the business by mail and proceeds to tell the boss how he could accomplish annual savings in operating costs, increase revenue by reversing the jig on the thingamajig, and reduce overhead by firing the first vice president.

Making sympathetic noises, the personnel manager asks the applicant to fill out an application form, which is later referred to the checking department on un-American activities and the representative of Union Local No. 9264.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE—The self-help articles lean heavily on advice as to how to sit, stand walk, part your hair and brush your teeth.

Women are advised to look like they were already employed by the organization and men to dress as if they were so successful it would make little difference whether they were accepted or not.

The applicants are even told what to say and when to say it. In actual practice, of course, the advice can be a handicap. If the hiring agent misses his cue the applicant is as lost as an actor who forgot his lines without a prompter present.

Under such conditions it is best for the applicant to blurt out the truth. He or she wants a job. Are they doing any hiring?

Eventually the applicant will have to make it known anyway. He might as well come clean in the first place instead of trading verbal pleasantries. The direct approach might be refreshingly successful.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Pittsburgh:—"The word berserk has aroused my curiosity. It seems to mean 'to be in love with' or 'crazy about' someone. I should like to know more about it, especially its source."—Miss E. K. H.

Answer:—In Norse mythology there was a famous fighter who scorned the use of heavy mail and, in battle, wore only the skin of a bear fastened over one shoulder. From that he was called Berserk (Berserk), or "Bear Shirt." It was said that he fought with the fury of a bear of the forest and that no foe was able to touch him. His twelve sons, also called Berserk, were equally furious fighters. From them any person so inflamed with the fury of fighting as to be equally dangerous to friend or foe is said to be berserk or to have gone berserk. It is a wide departure from usage, however, to use the term of one madly in love.

Mrs. D. F. C., Des Moines:—Genealogical may be pronounced either JEN-i- or JEE-ni-uh-LAHJ-i-kul.

Waterbury, Conn.—"Which is correct: 'He is suffering from a cold,' or 'He is suffering with a cold?'"—R. K. H.

Answer:—General practice through the years favors the preposition from: He is suffering from a cold. She suffers from disease, from a headache, from hunger.

C. G. H., Savannah:—Esperance, as used by Shakespeare in King Lear—"The lowest and most dejected thing of Fortune, stands still in esperance"—means hope or expectation. But as used by him in Henry IV—"Now Esperance Percy, and set on"—it was a battle cry. The term is obsolete.

When asked where he was going this winter, old Doc Smithers said he wouldn't know until certain friends and acquaintances have made their plans. Then he's going somewhere else.

The Doctor Says... Calm Explanation by Parents Prepares Child for Hospital

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

The first trip to the hospital for a young child is likely to cause a good deal of apprehension and nervousness.

Recently, a most interesting article appeared in one of our leading medical journals on the problem of emotional injury in the hospital treatment of children. The article contained a great many valuable suggestions for the physicians in charge, for the nurses, and for others who are directly associated with any treatment the child may have to receive.

However, it also brought up several important points which should be of value to parents in preparing a child for his or her first hospital experience.

It was pointed out, for example, that if the child has been wisely loved, and given support and self-confidence, he will also face an impending hospital experience much better than if the parents are themselves suspicious or frightened.

The article also said that the child best able to meet the hospital situation is the one who is able to trust the physicians and nurses to treat him fairly. Most children are no minnows, and realize that painful procedures will probably take place, but that they are necessary and for their own good and are not given in the way of punishment.

In order to reach this desirable attitude, however, a child must have a firm foundation of trust in his parents and must realize that they are always fair and that he has their constant love.

With this background, parents can and should explain honestly and simply to the child what is going to happen and why it is to be done. If the youngsters shows any fear, the parents should not be surprised at this, but should accept it as quite normal, and certainly should not make fun of the child's fear.

DELAYING HOSPITALIZATION There are a few reasons, the report stated, which might lead to the postponement of hospitalization for an operation if the operation is not immediately necessary.

A recent death in the family, serious difficulties between the parents, the presence of a new baby in the family, a move to a new location, or some similarly disturbing events may increase the youngsters' fear of a new hospital experience.

It may be well (depending, of course, on all the circumstances) to postpone a not-immediately-necessary operation until the child gets used to the new circumstances and reaches a stage of more emotional stability.

In mentioning these points it is not meant to imply that the parents have the entire responsibility for making a hospital experience easy for a child, but they can certainly help.

Nation Enjoys
Heavy Harvest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department yesterday
cited favorable harvesting weather as an assurance that the nation will gather its second largest crop output this year.

However, the department said the unusually dry conditions have left fall sown crops—such as winter wheat, barley, and oats—in a precarious state over widespread areas of the nation.

The bountiful harvest expected this year, will be about .5 per cent
below the record crop output achieved in 1948—the previous record year.

The department gave the following Michigan crop estimates:
Corn—51 bushels per acre with a total production of 85,731,000 bushels.

Dry Beans—1,050 pounds per acre, total production 3,812,000
100 pound bags.

Apples—commercial total production of 5,508,000 bushels.

Potatoes—185 bushels per acre,
total production 10,730,000 bushels.

Sugar beets—11 tons per acre,
total production 539,000 tons.

Worship service postponed.—Johannes Ringstad, pastor.

Detroit Strips To Take UN Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Bellevue Hospital reported today that a United Nations employee who stripped off his clothes and said he was divinely appointed to succeed Trygve Lie as U. N. secretary general had been confined to a psychiatric ward.

Police identified the man as Orval Johnson, 25, a Negro, of Detroit, employed in the U. N. radio news department.

The man went to the U. N. building's 38th floor, where Lie has his offices, at about 6:30 p. m. Wednesday night to make his dramatic declaration.

The police cars and an ambulance were sent to the building and the young man was removed to the hospital.

In 1951 Johnson went to Paris with the U. N. radio and television unit for the Assembly meeting there.

Johnson was elected president of the 1949 Literary College graduating class at the University of Michigan, the first Negro to win the honor.

Mrs. Shipman, 83, Dies Following A Lengthy Illness

Mrs. Alice E. Shipman, 83, widow of Capt. George E. Shipman, died yesterday at Ferguson Hospital in Newberry where she had been a patient since 1948.

The family, prominent in Escanaba many years, lived in the 100 block on 1st Ave. S.

Mrs. Shipman was born Aug. 17, 1869, at Rouse's Point, N. Y., and she came to Escanaba as a child. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and also was affiliated with the Royal Neighbors Society, serving as recorder many years.

There are no known relatives. Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. James H. Bell at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Anderson Funeral Home Chapel. Burial will be made in Lakeview Cemetery.

Bee-Keeper Convicted By Jury In Murder Of Baby-Sitter, 15

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Billy Rupp Jr., 18, Yorba Linda bee-keeper, has been convicted of first degree murder in the Aug. 8 slaying of 15-year-old baby sitter Ruby Ann Payne.

A jury of eight women and four men returned its verdict last night after 20½ hours of deliberation. It made no recommendation, which means that if Rupp is found sane in his sanity trial next week, he must die in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber.

Rupp was accused of killing the Payne girl after she resisted his advances. She was caring for the three children of Rupp's employer. Rupp's attorney based the defense almost solely on the contention that the youth had suffered a brain injury early in life and was unable to premeditate a crime.

California Churchmen Blamed For Gambling

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Northern California churchmen yesterday heard themselves blamed partially for the existence of gambling in the state.

Warren Olney III, University of California law professor and chief counsel for the State Commission on Organized Crime, said about the only organized lotteries in the state today are those operated by fraternal, charitable and church groups.

The evil, he told a conference on gambling, is not so much in the direct effect of such activities as in the air of respectability such sponsorship gives to gambling.

The conference was sponsored by the Commission on Legislation and Morals of the Northern California-Nevada Council of Churches.

Contracts With Labor Unions Not Legal For Highway Commissions

LANISING (AP) — Attorney General Frank G. Millard has held that the state Hutchinson Act does not upset previous rulings that county road commissions have no power to enter into contracts with labor unions.

The opinion was requested by Prosecutor James A. Henderson of Sault Ste. Marie.

Henderson asked whether the Chippewa County road commission may recognize the United Mine Workers District 50 as the sole bargaining agent for its employees. He said the State Labor Mediation

General Questioned On Hushed-Up Story Of Polish Massacre

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former top wartime intelligence officer was summoned by House investigators today to tell whether he suppressed an official wartime report charging the Russians with the murder of 15,000 Polish officers.

Maj. Gen. Clayton Bissell, one-time head of G2, faces questioning by a special House committee investigating the massacre in Katyn Forest, Western Russia, during World War II.

The general's testimony is expected to conclude week-long hearings to determine whether American officials withheld news of Russia's connection with the massacre to avoid endangering relations with the Soviets during the war.

Bissell handled a special report made by Lt. Col. John H. Van Vliet Jr., who, as a German war prisoner, was taken to Katyn in early 1943 when the Nazis announced finding mass graves of thousands of Poles.

Van Vliet reported in May, 1945, he was convinced by his visit that the Russians committed the murders. Although Moscow blamed the Germans, the report subsequently disappeared.

The committee has reported its investigation proves the Russians

Royal Oak Man Admits He Killed His Wife

DETROIT (AP) — A bullet through her head, Mrs. Margaret Sharpe, 40, was found shot to death in her suburban Royal Oak township home last night. Police said her husband, Lincoln, admitted he shot her.

The 42-year-old husband, according to police, said he shot his wife Wednesday and had remained in the house with her body since.

Neighbors called police when they saw Sharpe, a welder, and five-year-old son lying on the garage floor, the father crying. Carl Braun, Oakland County assistant prosecutor, said apparently the father planned to kill himself and the boy.

Sharpe gave no reason for the slaying.

Turnpike Accident Piles Up 20 Autos

KEARNEY, N. J. (AP) — More than 20 vehicles, including a bus and two trucks, piled up today in a chain-reaction accident on the fog-shrouded New Jersey turnpike. Two men were killed and at least seven others injured.

The spectacular crackup occurred in a dip between two bridges on the high speed highway. One truck smashed into the second and both vehicles caught fire. Other cars and the bus then rammied into the pileup.

slaughtered the Polish leaders to make way for a Communist Poland.

Arthur Bliss Lane, former ambassador to Poland, testified yesterday he understood the Voice of America at first had refused to include in its world-wide broadcasts the findings of the American Committee to Investigate the Katyn Massacre. Lane headed the committee, formed in 1949, which charged the Russians with the killings.

Alan Cranston, a wartime official of the Office of War Information, was recalled for further testimony on his role in what committee members called efforts to censor Polish language radio broadcasts for anti-Russian comments on Katyn.

During the week the committee has heard some top-level wartime diplomats deny there was any suppression of reports on Katyn. But they agreed that United States military officials feared that Russia might conclude a separate peace with Germany.

George H. Earle, former governor of Pennsylvania and once President Roosevelt's special emissary to Turkey, testified yesterday he showed the President Bulgarian and Romanian documents in May, 1944, proving Russian guilt at Katyn.

Earle said Roosevelt was convinced the Germans had committed the killings.

When he proposed publishing a full report about Katyn, Earle said, the President forbade him. He produced a letter from Roosevelt which said it would be a "betrayal" for a presidential envoy to make public "your unfavorable opinion of one of our allies at the very time when such a publication might do irreparable harm to our war effort."

A collector offered $1,500 for the letter, Earle added.

He said he tried to warn the President before the Normandy landing in 1944 that "Russia was a greater menace than Germany." The President replied, he added, that Russia's various races would "fly to pieces" when the war ended.

Hunters Jam Straits Ferries

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

Associated Press Outdoor Writer

Prospects of excellent deer hunting over the opening week-end were attracting a record crowd into the north woods and had created a small jam for the newly-augmented Straits of Mackinac ferry fleet today.

The throngs of hunters seeking passage across the Straits to the Upper Peninsula were finding a 30 to 45-minute wait—to get on the five ferries which are shuttling across the Straits day and night as fast as they can go.

The fleet has been augmented since the last deer season by the addition of the 150-car Vacationland.

The wait which had developed, however, was nothing compared to former years when lines stretched for miles south of the Mackinaw City docks and hunters had to wait hours for passage.

Conservation Department officials unhesitatingly predict that the hunters in the woods on opening day Saturday will total between 300,000 and 400,000, far more than any previous year.

Last year the total number of hunters out in the whole season was 369,000. This year at least 500,000 hunters are expected to get out before the season ends Nov. 30.

Conservation men say there are plenty of deer to shoot at. The herd is more numerous than last year, if anything, the experts say, and in many places are badly in need of thinning out.

Kalamazoo Mother Sees Train Kill Son

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Horrified Mrs. Earl Ex saw a New York Central freight train run down and kill her two-year-old son, Randall, back of their home yesterday.

Only a few minutes earlier Mrs. Ex, wife of a Kalamazoo policeman, had brought the boy from the tracks, warning him and a neighborhood playmate of the danger.

The full moon appears high in the sky during winter and low during summer in the United States.

Mrs. St. Thomas Dies, Services Monday Morning

Mrs. Priscilla Mary St. Thomas, 82, widow of Joseph St. Thomas, died at 5:45 p. m. yesterday at the Dufresne home, 517 N. 19th St. She had been in poor health a number of years and seriously ill the past four months.

Born in Deseronto, Canada, April 19, 1870, she came from Canada in 1909 and settled in Rapid River. She had lived in Escanaba the past 10 years. Her husband died Nov. 14, 1945.

She was a member of St. Thomas Church and its Altar Society and of the Auxillary to Walter Cole Post, American Legion Rapid River.

Surviving are two sons, Herman of Escanaba and Herbert of Racine, Wis., 9 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral Home where friends may call beginning Sunday noon. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Monday at St. Thomas Church with the Rev. Arnold Thompson officiating and burial will be in Rapid River Cemetery. The rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 8 p. m. Sunday.

January Draft Calls 1,720 From Michigan

LANISING (AP) — Michigan draft boards will call 1,720 men for induction into the armed forces in January, Lt. Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said today.

The call will include only men who are 20 years old or older on Jan. 1 except for delinquents or volunteers.

Wayne County boards will be asked to furnish 260 men and out-state boards 1,460.

The call by Upper Peninsula counties: Alger 5, Baraga 4, Chippewa 26, Delta 15, Dickinson 7, Gogebic 15, Houghton 17, Iron 9, Keweenaw 2, Luce 2, Mackinac 8, Marquette 19, Menominee 10, Ontonagon 2, Schoolcraft 2.

Girl Cuts Out Food And Water 6 Months But Loses No Weight

MADRAS, India (AP) — Medical men puzzled today over a pretty 17-year-old girl who says she has taken neither food nor water for the past six months and hasn't lost an ounce of weight.

The girl, whose name is Dhanalakshmi, has been under medical observation in a hospital in Madras, capital of the Southwest Indian state of Coorgs, for the past two weeks.

The state's health minister told newsmen: "Her case is astonishing. While we wait for an answer, Dhanalakshmi lives gay and vivacious as ever."

The girl reportedly developed an aversion to food and water in 1949 and six months ago began refusing to take any at all.

amendment of existing bi-lateral air transport agreements. The State Department plans soon to reply that it will be happy to take part in such consultations.

Before the meetings, however, the State Department and the CAB want to sound out the plans and wishes of U. S. airlines regarding polar travel.

Requests On File

Pan American already has authority to operate a route from the United States to Moscow. For obvious reasons, this route never has been actually established.

There also are reports that Western and Northwest Airlines are interested in the possibility of extending their routes to the north. To date, however, the following are the only requests for polar routes on file with the CAB:

1. Alaska Airlines: A proposal filed in October, 1951, for a route from Fairbanks to Paris by way of Oslo and London.

2. Wein Alaska Airlines: A proposal filed early this year for a route from Fairbanks to Oslo, Stockholm, Copenhagen, London, Paris and Berlin.

Failing Hearts Hooked Up With Electricity To Keep People Alive

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A method of keeping people alive by virtually plugging them into an AC electrical outlet was disclosed today by the New England Journal of Medicine.

The regional medical publication says that to "hook up" a patient is "simple" and describes it this way:

A thyristor stimulator, about the size of a table radio—"which provides the missing heartbeat"—is plugged into an ordinary alternating current electrical outlet. It converts the electricity into waves or impulses.

Needles In Chest
Then hypodermic needles connected to the machine are inserted into each side of the patient's chest.

"The needles carry the electric pulse through the thick outer skin which is resistant to electric current," the Journal of Medicine says. "The electrical impulse then travels from a negative electrode, clamped on one needle, across the heart to a positive electrode on the other needle."

The paper says, "If the heart can be kept beating and pumping blood over a period of time, there is a good chance that the normal heart beat will resume again."

The article adds, however, that "if the heart beat stops for long the patient dies."

The new method of giving failing hearts a second chance to take up normal functions was developed by Dr. Paul M. Zoll, associate in medicine at the Harvard Medical School and chief of the cardiac clinic of the Beth Israel Hospital.

Two Patients Saved
He said that the lives of at least two patients already were saved by this method.

The heart of one patient was kept pumping by electrical impulses for five straight days. It was reported that "standstill," or stopping of the heart beat, occurs in severe cases of heart disease, in shock or drowning, and rarely during anesthesia or surgery. "In these cases," the report said, "the new method promises a quicker and simpler method" than by injecting the drug epinephrine directly into the heart muscles or cutting open the patient's chest and massaging the heart by hand.

but not the full story

UNTIL YOU READ these words you might not know that these girls are nurses... Navy nurses... and that they have been taking swimming lessons... and that the final lesson consists of jumping fully clothed into the water to learn how to swim under emergency conditions.

A picture, a headline, a brief announcement can whet your appetite for news, but cannot satisfy your hunger for the whole story.

It takes words—sometimes many—to satisfy your curiosity about the who, what, when and where of any picture or headline. Words bring meaning, words bring understanding, words bring news. Newspapers bring news.

Only the newspaper brings you full stories day after day—pictures and sufficient words

Only the newspaper can bring you the full story as soon as your appetite is aroused. Fast, without delay.

• This goes for advertising, too. The brief message that hangs in the air... or the brief headline here or there... may indeed have a momentary interest.

But the newspaper ad carries the brass-tacks quality, the urgency of the newspaper itself.

Like a news item, the ad can be examined and re-examined. Can be read any time. Anywhere. Can be clipped and carried in a pocket or pocketbook.

Like the news, the ads themselves have the same important local quality. No other medium can match this quality.

Add to all this the fact that the newspapers reach everybody in town, and you know why the newspaper is the nation's most powerful advertising medium.

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Thanksgiving Dinner Up To Date

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
Lower the cost and up the nutrition of your holiday meal by using nonfat dry milk powder in some of your Thanksgiving dishes. Here are three recipes showing how to do it.

SAUSAGE STUFFING

Ingredients: 4 cups soft fluffy bread crumbs, 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon sage, 1/2 teaspoon thyme, 1/2 pound sausage meat, 1/2 cup chopped onions, 1/2 cup hot water.

Method: Mix bread crumbs well with nonfat dry milk powder, salt, pepper, sage and thyme. Crumble and brown sausage in skillet. Remove sausage; brown onions in sausage drippings. Add sausage meat and onions to bread mixture. Stir in hot water and mix well. Stuff body cavity of bird. This makes enough stuffing for a 4-pound chicken; for a 12-pound turkey, triple recipe.

Roast Turkey Gravy

Ingredients: 3/4 cup drippings, 1/2 cup flour, 3/4 cup nonfat dry milk powder, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 4 cups water.

Method: Pour drippings from roasting pan into a bowl. Measure 3/4 cup drippings and pour back into roasting pan. Mix flour, nonfat dry milk powder, salt, paprika and pepper. Stir into drippings until smooth and well blended. Gradually stir in water. Place over low heat; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Serve hot with roast turkey or use with left-over turkey dishes. Makes about 4 cups.

Creamed Onions

Ingredients: 2 pounds raw onions (sliced) (or about 3 1/2 cups cooked), 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk powder, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1 1/2 cups water, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Method: Cook onions in boiling water until just tender; drain water until just tender; drain (There will be about 3 1/2 cups drained cooked onion.) Sprinkle nonfat dry milk powder, flour, salt, pepper and paprika over water in top of double boiler. Beat with a rotary beater until well blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in butter and onions well. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Isabella

ISABELLA—Miss Loretta Sherlock and Robert Gouin were honored at a shower Tuesday evening at the Isabella community building. Games were played and honors were awarded to Mrs. Caleb Johnson and Mrs. Pete Forslund for high scores. Mrs. Johnson also received the special award. Delicious lunch was served by Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. Albert Pilon, sisters of the prospective bridegroom. Miss Sherlock opened her many gifts from a prettily decorated table. Among guests were Mrs. Ed Tobin, Mrs. Nick Gummenden, Mrs. Momen Beauchamp, and Barbara Newhouse of Nahma. Miss Sherlock will become the bride of Mr. Gouin Nov. 29.

Harmony Club
Mrs. Felix Cayemborg was hostess to the Harmony club at her home Wednesday evening. Games were played and awards were made to Mrs. Roy Wester, Mrs. Pete Forslund and Mrs. Harvey Sundin. Mrs. Isadore Bonifas was the honored guest. Mrs. Roy Wester will be the next hostess.

Biscuits for springtime. Add a few tablespoons of minced parsley to the shortening and flour when mixing.

TURKEY AND FIXIN'S... All-American favorite.

AP Newsfeatures
Use your teens to build for your twenties. That's the advice offered by glamorous Mildred Miller, who at 26 years of age finds herself a star of the Metropolitan Opera, slated to sing the important role of Preziosilla in Verdi's "Forza del Destino" in the first performance of the season. Says she:

"Young people sometimes tend to let well enough alone with their gifts and talents instead of exploring tentative interests. There are many teen-agers who flirt with the idea of being a nightclub singer, a recording artist, a musical comedy star or even an opera singer, but few of them do anything to make their dreams come true."

Mildred's own story is a good case in point. She had taken piano lessons from early childhood and in high school acted as accompanist and soloist for school affairs and programs.

She might have continued in that secure spot, if she hadn't had faith in herself. She explains:

"I got interested in singing because I sang in our church choir. When I got a solo once and felt the thrill of feeling my voice soar out I found a thrill that piano playing never gave me. I didn't know if I could really sing, but I figured I was young enough to take a chance and find out. When you are in your teens you have time to waste on this kind of exploration."

Mildred offers these pointers to ambitious young people, and those who need to be pulled out of a rut:

1. Participate in school or church events. It doesn't matter whether you go to a small school or a medium sized one. Extra-curricular events in all schools are planned chiefly to draw young people out and create school spirit, so don't be shy about volunteering or applying for school jobs. An interest in reporting can develop on the school paper. The stage is full of talented young people who got their first theatrical experience acting, designing scenery or making costumes for school productions. A college or university radio station can offer practical working experience.

2. It's a good thing to be adamant about your talent, but if you find your interest in one kind of activity waning in favor of another, give yourself a chance to find out how deep your interest is in the new field. (Mildred did this when she switched from piano to voice.)

3. Take your dreams seriously. Don't be self-consciously afraid that they are too big for you. If it weren't for dreams, we would not have the telephone, airplane or the discovery of radium. We limit ourselves when we do not give our dreams a chance to come true."

4. Be realistic. Have a plan of action and set your sights. Rather than be turned down for a lack of experience on the job that you are anxious to have, get the required experience before you apply for it. If the odds are against you as a newcomer, wait a while and get a professional or business standing elsewhere.

5. Be down to earth about yourself and your ambitions, so that those who are responsible for your welfare won't be reluctant to give you another chance. Parents and teachers will help you if you show definite talent for the thing you are aiming to do.

In order to get attention, Mildred went to Europe to gain experience on the opera stages abroad before she tackled the Met. She sang in Italian and German opera companies and got many opportunities that she would not have gotten in musically crowded New York, she says. Sheer luck entered into this program also, however, for she says she was heard abroad by Mr. Rudolf Bing, General Manager of the Metropolitan Opera.

Feeding Him Keeps Glamor Boy Movie Husband Contented

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

How can a girl keep her husband happy, if he's one of Hollywood's handsomest glamor boys? "Easy," says Linda Christian, the green-eyed actress who is still married to screen star Tyrone Power after four highly publicized years. "I feed him."

Here in New York for the opening of "The Happy Time," in which she plays her most important role to date, Linda doesn't look especially like a homebody.

Looks Not Everything

Born in Mexico and educated in Venezuela, Palestine, South Africa, Holland and Italy, Mrs. Tyrone Power looks like a young and modernized version of Cleopatra. But, as she points out, looks aren't everything. Lots of girls have allure, but how many, for instance, know how to cook authentic Mexican mole or fried beans? Says Linda:

"I've gathered up recipes in every country I've lived in, and Ty just loves them all."

A devoted and conscientious mother, she takes her year-old daughter, Romina, along on all her tours. The baby's name commemorates the city where Linda met Ty and where they spent their honeymoon—Rome.

Studied For Surgeon

Linda was born Blanca Rosa Walter, the daughter of a Dutch oil executive whose business took him to most of the far corners of the earth. She studied medicine and planned to become a surgeon, until offers of screen contracts interfered with her studies.

She went to Hollywood, but didn't meet Tyrone Power until she took a vacation trip to Rome.

Linda caused some comment, even in Hollywood, by her unusual anniversary gift to Ty—an undraped statue of herself which graces their Hollywood lawn. Both Mr. and Mrs. Power do a lot of traveling, but they're never separated for more than six weeks a year. The rest of the time Linda presides in their California home, working up a reputation as a model hostess with the film colony.

Linda plans to continue her film career, of which Ty approves highly. But, she says, she'll never let it interfere with her duties as a housewife, a mother and a cook.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koskela, 425 S. 9th St., are the parents of a daughter born Nov. 13 at St. Francis hospital. Mr. Koskela is a member of the Escanaba Junior High School faculty.

A son who weighed 7 pounds and 8½ ounces was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Sheedlo, 1101 3rd Ave. S., Nov. 12 at St. Francis hospital.

A son, Gary David, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roos of Gwinn Nov. 10 at St. Mary's hospital in Marquette. The baby's weight at birth was 8 pounds and 1 ounce. Mrs. Roos is the former Ellen Leppanen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Leppanen of Rock.

If the core at the base of a head of lettuce is firm and light-colored, the chances are the lettuce head will be solid. Always store lettuce in a covered container in the refrigerator.

It's Fruitcake Time

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

It's not too soon to be thinking ahead to Christmas—if you have fruit-cake making in mind. This recipe for that scrumptious holiday concoction should be baked a month to six weeks before Christmas so that the cakes can mellow. This fruit cake slices best when it has been allowed to age, and it remains moist.

You will note that the recipe directs keeping the cake in a cool place while it mellow. By cool place we mean a kitchen cabinet or pantry where the temperature is not inclined to go much beyond 70 degrees. If you do store the wrapped cakes at room temperature in this way, place them in a tightly covered tin box.

However, if you can spare the refrigerator space, the wrapped cakes will mellow even better there, and they slice wonderfully well when they are cold.

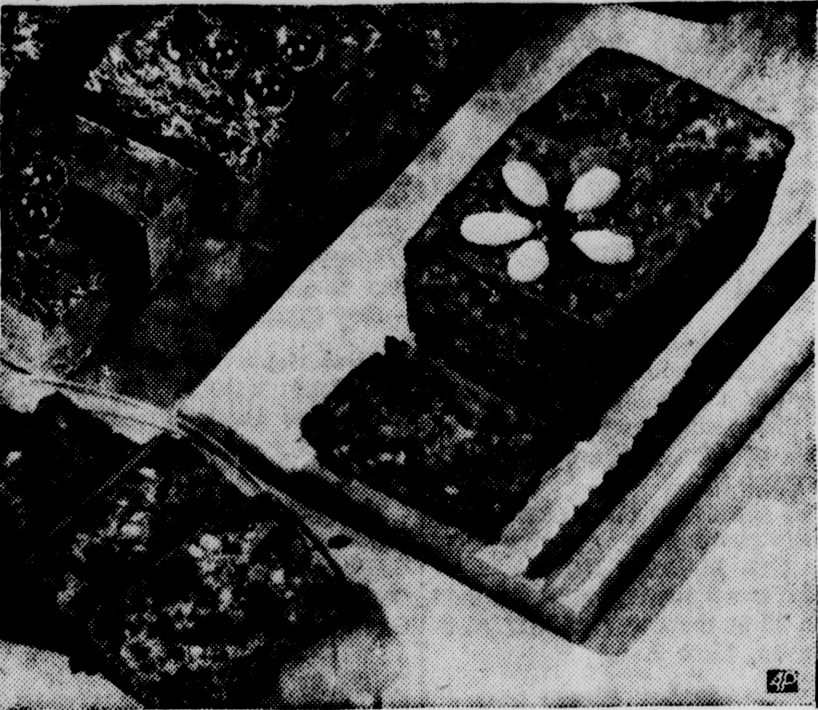

Stored in either place, the cakes should be wrapped in two thicknesses of heavy waxed paper or in one thickness of aluminum foil.

One more tip: Spread your fruit-cake making over two days. On one day get the dried and candied fruit and nutmeats ready and mix with a cup of flour as the recipe directs. Next day prepare the batter, mix with the floured fruit and nuts and bake the cakes.

Note that this recipe calls for thrifty, convenient, and nutritious evaporated milk — and that it makes two or four loaves. Keep one or two for the family, give one or two gaily-wrapped loaves away. Since this fruit cake is neither dark nor light, but in between, a lot of eaters will enjoy it.

Remembrance Fruit Cake

Ingredients: ¾ pound seedless raisins, ¾ pound currants, 6 ounces citron, 2 ounces candied lemon peel, 2 ounces candied orange peel, ½ pound candied cherries, 4 ounces candied pineapple, ½ pound (about 2 cups) broken pecan or English walnut meats,

REMEMBRANCE FRUIT CAKE . . . Make it now.

1 cup butter or margarine or shortening, 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar, 4 eggs (separated), 1 cup evaporated milk, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2½ cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon allspice, ½ teaspoon mace, ½ teaspoon nutmeg.

Method: Rinse raisins and currants in hot water; drain well. Cut cherries in quarters. Slice pineapple thin. Nuts should be coarsely chopped or broken. Mix fruit and nuts in large bowl or pan. Add 1 cup of the flour and mix until fruit and nuts are well coated. Cream butter and sugar. Beat in egg yolks. Stir lemon juice into milk and add. Sift remaining 1½ cups flour with baking powder, salt, cinnamon, cloves, allspice, mace and nutmeg. Stir into egg yolk mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold in. Add batter to fruit mixture. Mix and stir only until blended. Grease pans lightly and line twice with heavy waxed paper. This mixture will make either four cakes 7½x3½x2 ¾ inches, or two cakes 8¾x4½x2 ¾ inches. Divide mixture evenly and press into pans, leveling tops. If desired, decorate tops with additional pieces of candied fruits such as pineapple and cherries, and nuts. Bake in very slow (275°F.) oven until done, about 2 hours for the small cakes, or about 2½ hours for the larger cakes. (When cakes are done, they are lightly browned and tiny cracks begin to appear in the top. These cracks close when cakes cool.) Cool cakes in pans about 10 minutes, then turn out on racks and place right side up again to finish cooling. When ready to store cakes to ripen, remove waxed paper from them and re-wrap either in clean waxed paper or aluminum foil. Keep in cool place until ready to use. Makes 6 pounds fruit cake.

Stepmother Needs Tact In Household Of Daughters

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

Being a stepmother is one of the hardest jobs a woman can take upon herself. If she wants to make a go of it, she must take it easy and watch every step she makes. That is my advice to the young woman who writes:

(Q) "I am 26 years old and plan, in the near future, to marry a widower of 37. He has four daughters, 12, 7, 4, and 7-months. So far as the work is concerned, I don't mind. What scares me most is the 12-year-old daughter. She is very nice to me but I have noticed that she wants to run the show. Being the eldest, she takes it seriously to look after things. How should I treat her?"

(A) Treat her as your helpmate and be thankful that she wants to assume responsibility. It is a heavy load for a girl as young as she to have a whole family on her shoulders and she is to be commended for wanting to "run the show" and for having done so since her mother's death.

Naturally, after you are married, you will want to do that yourself. But, take it easy unless you want to have this girl and her sisters against you. They will side with their sister if they feel you are trying to push her out of the picture. Then you will have gotten off to such a bad start that it is questionable if you can ever straighten things out satisfactorily.

Going into a ready-made household is far from an easy thing for anyone. The less you upset the pattern of family life, the happier all will be and the more quickly the children will adjust to you. The older girl can do a lot to teach you the ropes.

Gradually, as you learn from her how things have been done in their home in the past, you can take over the reins. Suggest to her that you would like her to do things with the other girls and that you will call on her for advice and help if you run into a snag. I believe you will find her only too willing to shed her responsibilities if you approach her in this manner.

When a change in the family routine seems desirable to you, consult the older children as well as your husband before taking action. Remember that families get into ruts and they don't like to be jugged out of them by those they consider "outsiders."

Dr. Hurlock will help you with family problems. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Representatives Of 7 Insurance Companies View Bridge Prospects

Representatives of seven large insurance companies who met Wednesday in St. Ignace and Mackinaw City with Upper Peninsula officials were in Sault Ste. Marie yesterday making a further study of the Mackinac Straits bridge as a bond investment possibility, it is reported by Fred D. Heltman, executive secretary of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

Manistique was represented at the session Wednesday by Heltman and Leonard Males.

The group spent the entire day at the Straits, lunching in St. Ignace and banqueting in the evening in Mackinaw City. Several

Charlene Johnson Bride November 8 Of Gerald Turek

At a ceremony performed Saturday, Nov. 8, in St. Francis de Sales Church Miss Charlene Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, of Thompson, became the bride of Gerald Turek, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Turek, of Nahma. The Rev. George Pernaski officiated at the 9 a. m. nuptial high mass.

During the ceremony J. Earl Cousineau sang the mass and "Ave Maria." He was accompanied by the organ by Mrs. Lora LaBras-seur. The church was decorated with baskets of bronze colored mums and pompons.

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her uncle, William Mulhaupt. She was attired in the gown her sister wore on her wedding day. The gown was of ivory satin with long pointed sleeves, scroll neckline edged in Spanish lace and fitted bodice. The skirt was designed with a lace edged apron effect ending in a bustle from which the court train extended. Her fingertip veil of tulle was held in place by a crown of mock orange blossoms and seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace with matching earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried an arm bouquet of mums, red roses and ivy tied with satin streamers.

Two Junior Bridesmaids
Miss Shirley McNamara was maid of honor. She wore a champagne tulle over taffeta gown and matching velvet jacket with gold trim and a matching headpiece of tulle. She carried an arm bouquet of bronze colored mums. Miss Mary Cecile Johnson, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Lou Hamiel, cousin of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of turquoise net over taffeta with black velvet girdles laced up the front with velvet ribbons. They wore matching headpieces of taffeta and black velvet and carried colonial bouquets of yellow pompons.

Francis Turek served his brother as best man and Edward Segerstrom, of Marquette, and Vital Herbert, of Nahma, brother-in-laws of the groom, seated the guests.

Mrs. Johnson attended her daughter's wedding in a navy blue street length dress with red accessories. Mrs. Turek, the groom's mother, wore a black and white print street length dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of red carnations.

Breakfast For 40
The wedding breakfast for 40 guests was served at the Al-O-Ray Motel, in Thompson, immediately following the ceremony. Table decorations were a miniature bridal party. The dining room was decorated with white and yellow streamers and white wedding bells. The reception was held from 4 to 10 p. m. at the Civic Center at Nahma. The hall was decorated with blue and white streamers and white wedding bells. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with the miniature bride and groom centered the serving table. The bridesmaids' flowers and crystal candle holders with white tapers completed the table decorations. The couple left later for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination.

The bride is a graduate of Manistique high school, class of 1950, and has been employed at the Al-O-Ray Motel. The groom attended Nahma high school and is employed by the Bosco Construction Company at Marquette.

Out-of-town guests attending were from Elgin, Ill.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Saginaw, Mich.; Escanaba, Mich.; Marquette, Mich. and Nahma, Mich.

Brown To Speak To Clubwomen

The Rev. A. Barton Brown, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will speak on "Thoughts for Thanksgiving" at a regular meeting of the Manistique Women's Club next Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 18, at Lakeside school. The meeting is scheduled for 3 p. m.

The Rev. Brown has been local pastor since last January, coming here from Bellevue, Mich., where he preached four years. He has an A. B. degree from Gordon College, Boston, and also attended the Northern Baptist Seminary in Chicago and did a year of graduate work at Michigan State College.

The program also will include several vocal selections by Mrs. Julius Settergren.

Hostess committee for the session includes Mrs. J. C. Quick, chairman; Mrs. Alex Robertson, Mrs. G. S. Johnson, Mrs. Charles Slining Jr., Mrs. Dallas Creeger, Mrs. Alex Creighton and Mrs. Joseph Paul.

Many Hunters Register With State Police

Downstate deer hunters in large numbers are registering at the Manistique state police post, it is announced.

To accommodate visiting hunters who plan to camp in the Manistique area, the post went on 24-hour duty Wednesday night and will maintain that schedule through Saturday night.

Hunters are requested to leave their names, camp addresses, home addresses and telephone numbers at the post. This information enables state police to transmit emergency messages between hunting camp and home with minimum loss of time.

Hong Kong To Build Mammoth Reservoir

HONG KONG (P)—This British crown colony is going to build a huge reservoir to try to lick its perennial water shortage.

The dam, 1,000 feet long and 150 feet high, will be erected in a nearby valley. Work will begin before the end of the year. It probably will take three years to complete the dam. The reservoir will store 1,150,000,000 gallons of water.

Hong Kong has been on water rations for several years because the population has been trebled by refugees from Communist China.

Volcano Rising From Sea Near Hibok-Hibok

MANILA (P)—A second volcano is reported rising from the sea off the Philippines, this time not far from Hibok-hibok, the killer volcano.

Constabulary headquarters said the undersea volcano had thrust its mouth 20 feet above the sea near the coastal town of Jasaan on Mindanao about 40 miles south of Hibok-hibok on Camiguin Island. Hibok-hibok has a habit of erupting explosively, and has killed hundreds of Filipinos who farm its slopes.

One Leader Found, Two More Needed, Scout Group Told

Reactivation of Boy Scouting in Manistique is one-third complete, the Rev. Paul Sobel, assistant district commissioner, told nearly 60 enthusiastic boys at a mass meeting Wednesday evening at the National Guard armory.

A Scoutmaster has been obtained for the Rotary Club troop, he said, leaving the Elks and the Lincoln-Riverside PTA troops still requiring adult leadership.

A determined attempt is underway to find Scoutmasters for these troops, he said, and he expressed optimism that such leaders would be found if boys maintained their enthusiasm and aided in the effort.

Other speakers at the meeting, which was attended by several parents, were Andrew Houston, of Escanaba, Red Buck executive, and Louis Rogers, of Manistique, neighborhood commissioner.

Expectation of organizing "klondike derbies" and drum and bugle corps in the Manistique and other units of the district was voiced by the Red Buck executive who also told something of the National Scout Jamboree in California next year.

Dec. 1 Deadline In Name Contest

Deadlines for submitting entries in the Manistique Quarterback Club name contest has been set for Dec. 1, it is reported by John Matthews, president.

Each entry should contain a suggested new name for the quarter-back club and the name and address of the contestants. Entries should be mailed to Matthews. The winner will receive a $5 prize.

The quarter-back club, organized over a year ago, proposes to change its name because its activities are devoted to all local sports, not just football.

Norwegian Scholar To Visit Carl Olsons

Kare Birklund, of Rjukan, Norway, a Fulbright Fellowship scholar, is expected to arrive this weekend to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson, 365 Lake St.

Under the Fulbright scholarship Birklund is spending a year in the United States making a study of American schools. A language specialist, he is now completing an eight weeks' course in the teaching of English at the University of Michigan.

Olson, who is principal of Manistique high school, met Birklund aboard the ship Stockholm on his return from a trip to Sweden last August.

City Assumes Holiday Look

First physical evidence of the approaching holidays appeared on Manistique business streets this week as city crews began putting up Christmas decorations.

Evergreen stringers, made at the city shops, were twined around light standards and ornamental fixtures were attached to the poles.

H. W. Heideman, city manager, said yesterday that as much of the holiday decorations as possible would be up this week ahead of the deer season.

"When the deer season opens it is going to be hard to find men to do the work," he said.

The city expects that all of the Christmas decorating will be done by Thanksgiving, including the hanging of colored light strings at street intersections and at various intervals across eastside and westside business streets.

A new sports event may make its appearance in the Upper Peninsula next summer. The Negaunee Recreation Committee, which has promoted the U. P. All-Star football game for the past six years, made plans recently to inaugurate an All-Star basketball game at the big Negaunee gym next June. The game would match teams composed of outstanding graduating seniors from schools throughout the Peninsula.

It's presumed that the basketball game will be handled along the same lines followed in the gridiron classic. That would pit a North squad against a South team with players being selected on the basis of recommendations by sports writers and announcers in the Upper Peninsula.

Reasons for selecting Negaunee's Memorial gym for the site of the proposed game are listed as follows: 1—It is believed to have the greatest seating capacity of any gym above the Straits. 2—Negaunee is centrally located. 3—Marquette county is traditionally regarded as the "hotbed" of basketball in the U. P. 4—Experience gained by the committee is staging the football All-Star game would qualify that group to take the initiative in sponsoring a basketball contest under similar conditions.

Dom Moselle of the Green Bay Packers is sixth among National Football League punt returners with five for 73 yards and an average of 14.6. Moselle was a room mate of Escanaba's new football coach, Joe Milokna, when both attended Superior State Teachers College.

Speaking of the Packers, their two quarterbacks still top the NFL in the passing department. Tobin Rote has thrown 97, completed 52 for 819 yards and seven touchdowns. Babe Parilli is second with 40 completions in 87 attempts for 701 yards and eight TDs. Both have had six aeriels intercepted. Rote's average is 8.44 yards per throw.

Marinette, new basketball foe for the Escanaba Eskimos this season, has six senior lettermen back from last year's squad. Three are skyscrapers going well over the six-foot mark. Pat McAuliffe, 6-4, may miss the early games because of a leg injury from football. But ready for action are Chuck Voskamp, 6-4, and Paul Thomsen, 6-3.

Maple Leafs In NHL Top Place

(By The Associated Press)

Toronto's rough and ready Maple Leafs are back in the National Hockey League lead today.

The Leafs took over the spot Thursday night by whipping the Montreal Canadiens, Toronto's 3-1 victory knocked the previously leading Canadiens down to a second-place tie with the Chicago Black Hawks.

The Hawks thrashed the New York Rangers, 6-2. That left Chicago and Montreal with 17 points to Toronto's 18.

Detroit's defending league and Stanley Cup champions took over fourth place with 15 points by blanking Boston's Bruins, 3-0.

Captain Ted Kennedy starred in the Leafs' victory, breaking a 1-1 tie, and assisting in the clinching goal.

Ted Lindsay had two goals and one assist in the Red Wings' victory as goalie Terry Sawchuk recorded his second shutout of the season.

The Rangers, who have lost games in all sorts of fashions this year, contrived a new method. They had a 1-0 lead when Chicago lost Al Dewsbury on a penalty. By the time he returned, the Hawks' five men had taken a 2-1 lead over the Rangers' six.

Big Ten Showdown Set For Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—A showdown between Purdue and Michigan in the bunched Big Ten race for the title and Rose Bowl assignment is the conference center of attraction Saturday.

Purdue is the only undefeated team in Big Ten competition but tied by Minnesota 14-14.

Michigan has three victories and one defeat, that by Illinois.

Another loss by either team would all but wreck its hopes of a championship. Purdue closes its regular season next week against Indiana. Michigan finishes with a traditional foe, Ohio State.

Single Wing Attack

Purdue's inability to cope effectively with Minnesota's single wing has given the Boilermakers a slight underdog role at Ann Arbor. The Wolverines range from even in the

Television Fans Will See Georgia Tech Roll

ATLANTA (AP)—Football fans across the nation can see two of Dixie's finest backfields Saturday when Alabama tries to knock Georgia Tech from the unbeaten, untied ranks.

Alabama has lost only once this season, and nothing would please the Crimson Tide more than to upset the Engineers, the nation's No. 2 team and already signed for the Sugar Bowl. Alabama ranks 12th in the The Associated Press poll.

One Tie

No team has beaten Tech since Bama did it two years ago. The only blemish on Tech's record in the last 22 games is a tie by Duke last year.

The game will be televised nationally as the "TV Game of the Week." Odds in Atlanta favor Tech by two touchdowns.

Two of the Engineers' best runners—halfbacks Leon Hardeman

Grid Talent Not For Sale

CHICAGO (AP)—A mail order scouting service of Illinois High school football players, operated by Harold R. Frankhauser, 30, former University of Illinois student, has folded after it was brought to the attention of K. L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner.

Wilson Thursday advised Frankhauser, an insurance agent, to drop his plan to provide ratings, academic transcripts, personal history or direct evaluation of Illinois high school athletes to colleges for fees ranging from $8 to $20, plus expenses.

"What Frankhauser was doing was putting a price tag on grades and talent," said Wilson.

Wilson said there was no rule against such a service but it violated the spirit of Big Ten and National Collegiate Athletic Association codes aimed against subsidization.

The matter was brought to Wilson's attention when several Big Ten schools received promotional letters from Frankhauser.

Frankhauser, who was interviewed by Wilson, said about half of the universities he contacted had responded and that heavy interest was shown by the south, southeast and southwest.

Name Peterson, Beauchamp Braves Grid Co-Captains; Coach Monson Is Honored

GLADSTONE — Harry Monson, Iron River's two-time Coach of the Year, was honored here last night at the Rotary Club's 30th annual football recognition banquet.

Sharing the limelight with the Iron River grid mentor were a pair of juniors from Coach Don Pfothenauer's Gladstone Braves who were named co-captains for the 1953 season. Duane Peterson, a tackle, and Norman Beauchamp, injured backfield man, were selected co-captains by their mates.

Monson was tabbed Coach of the Year at the recent Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association meeting following his second undefeated, untied season at Iron River in the past three years. The Redskin coach was honored by the Rotarians in 1950. Iron River has won 22 of its last 24 gridiron starts.

Accompanying Monson from Iron River were a pair of Redskin stars of the past season. Roland Pearson, all-U. P. end, and Bumpy Fregetto, Iron River fullback, were guests.

U. P. Champs

Other guests were members of the 1928 Gladstone High School football team, one of the greatest clubs in the school's history. The '28 Braves, undefeated and the U. P. champions, were represented at the banquet by James Rouman, Cliff Sutter and Gus DeHooghe. Other members of the team were Clarence Skoquist, Myles MacMillan, James Beach, Robert Haberman, Cliff LaLiberty, James Murdock, Neil Fillmore, Theodore Murray, Arnold Froberg, Vincent Johnson, Dick Foster, Vernon White and Ray Albin. Eldon Keil, 1928 Gladstone grid coach, introduced the team.

The handsome Rotarian "Coach of the Year" trophy was presented to Monson by Ken Radick, last year's top coach in the U. P. and mentor of the current Menominee Maroon U. P. champions.

"This honor should be going to the Iron River football team and not the Iron River coach," Monson told the Rotary Club and guests. "The town, the school and the team will be proud to hold this beautiful trophy this year," the former Escanaba athlete said.

Plagued By Injuries

The 1952 Braves, plagued by serious injuries throughout the season, concluded their campaign with a record five wins in seven starts, ranking among the top Class B teams in the U. P. Becker, lowering end, was honored with an all-U. P. end berth and LaPlant, talented halfback, was a second team choice of the Sports Writers Association.

Members of the home economics department served a turkey dinner and entertainment was provided by a trio of girl students, Mary Alice Cameron, Mary Jo Bolger and Louis Klug.

Also introduced were the 1952 cheerleaders, Beverly Timler, Mary Beth Cannon, Nancy Richards, Kathleen Lavelle, Gale Arvey and Myrna Butler.

O. H. Anderson, Rotary president, served as master of ceremonies and James Jones introduced the guests.

Powers Opens At Rapid River; Four Lettermen

POWERS—Four lettermen will be on the squad when Coach Irving Soderlund's Powers Tigers invade Rapid River for the 1952-53 basketball opener Nov. 22.

Back in action this season are John Henderson, Don O'Neil, Ray Wells and Don Fellefieu. Lost through graduation last year were Dave Lawrence, Bob Lawrence, Wallie Perket, Jim Cory, Wes Miller, Ray Schoen and John Hoppe.

Members of last season's reserve squad showing promise in practice sessions include Jim Sargent, Jim Henderson, Earl St. John, Ralph Veeder and John Hafeman. Billy Wells, who did not play last year because of a football injury, is also a candidate for a varsity berth.

The Tigers will be competing for the first time in the Little Seven League in basketball. They were part of the Central League last season, finishing third in the final standings.

Coach Soderlund, beginning his second season at Powers, will be assisted by Marvin Ropele who will work with the junior varsity team. Edward Weichech is junior high coach.

Powers schedule follows:

Davenport's 3-1 Future Is Shaky

CHICAGO (AP)—The Three I League has given Davenport Quad Cities 12 days to raise $25,000 or forfeit its franchise in the class B baseball league.

If the franchise is vacated, Peoria, Ill., appears the likely new member.

Hal Totten, Three I president, said that the Davenport decision was made Thursday at the annual meeting of the league in a "very amicable" atmosphere.

Seemed Satisfied

"We want to keep Davenport if at all possible," he said. "Bill Purnhage (vice president and general manager of the Quad Cities Athletic Association) appeared satisfied with the decision."

Totten said Purnhage seemed confident that the money could be raised and placed in escrow by the Nov. 26 deadline.

"We realize that's a short time to raise that amount but the league must know how it stands so arrangements can be made to continue with eight teams next season," Totten said. "If Davenport raises the sum, the league will help all it can in obtaining a major league affiliation for the club or a supply of players if that fails."

Quad Cities' affiliation with the Detroit Tigers was dropped after the 1952 season.

Money Set

Totten said a group of 25 Peoria business men had filed application for the franchise and had the money to back it up. He estimated that Peoria would need about $50,000 to get organized and ready for business.

A committee was appointed by the league to help Davenport solve its problem. It consists of Tom Rigney, Jr., of Waterloo, Ia.; Jim McLaughlin, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Lee Thomas, Burlington, Ia.; Montgomery Carrott, Quincy, Ill., and Totten, Keokuk, Ia.

Other teams in the league are Evansville and Terre Haute in Indiana.

Boston Brave Mound Star Also Is Cager

BOSTON (AP)—Gene Conley, the Boston Braves' six-foot-eight pitching prospect, has been signed to a National Basketball Association contract and will make his bow with the Boston Celtics against the Rochester Royals here Sunday.

The young giant played basketball at Washington State. Conley will be used as a substitute for high-scoring Easy Ed McCauley, according to Coach Red Auerbach.

Refrigerator Bowl Is Okayed By NCAA

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association today gave its blessing to the Refrigerator Bowl, Evansville, Ind., bringing to nine the number of post-season football games it has certified. The announcement was made through NCAA headquarters in Kansas City. The Refrigerator Bowl was on the NCAA-approved list last year.

Packers Face Rugged Defense In New York

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The Green Bay Packers, flying high after their 41-28 triumph over the Chicago Bears, face the New York Giants and the National Football League's toughest defense in the Polo Grounds in New York Sunday afternoon. Kickoff will be at 1:05, Green Bay time.

The championship hopes of both clubs will be at stake in the crucial battle to be played before a crowd estimated at approximately 35,000. The Giants will enter the game with a 5-2 record in the American conference, while the Packers have 4-3 in the high-scoring National conference.

New York is knotted with Cleveland for the AC lead, while the Packers and Los Angeles Rams are tied in second place in the NC behind the San Francisco Forty Niners and Detroit Lions who have 5-2 marks.

Low Average

The powerful Giants have permitted their first seven foes only 80 points an average of slightly over 11 per contest. Only the Cardinals have been able to score three touchdowns in one game against the Giants, the Chicagoans winning, 24-23.

Packer head coach Gene Ronzani figures the Packers will have to score three or four touchdowns to defeat the Giants.

Green Bay will place its hopes on a balanced offense, between the passing of Babe Parilli and Tobin Rote and the receiving of Bob Mann and Bill Howton and the running of Billy Griem, Tony Canadeo, Floyd Reid, Fred Cone and others.

Bucceroni, Nardico Will Meet Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Dan Bucceroni and Danny Nardico, a couple of boys struggling to get into the big money, meet tonight in a heavyweight 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Bucceroni, winner of 38 of 41, is the 7½ to 5 favorite to end Nardico's nine-fight win streak. But Nardico is building a rep as a spoiler. Both are 24.

The bout is scheduled for 9:00 p. m. (EST).

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

New York—Danny Jo Perez, 138, New York, outpointed Johnny Diglio, 137, Bayonne, N. J., 4.

Grid Natural Matches Michigan And Purdue

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A gridiron "natural" is on tap here Saturday with the meeting of the ambitious Boilermakers of Purdue and Michigan's equally ambitious contenders.

The stars of both teams are ably supported. Kress has the running and passing of quarterback Ted Topor as well as the rushing of Halfbacks Tony Brannoff and Frank Howell and Fullback Dick Balzhiser.

Lots Of Help

The Boilermakers are ably seconded by the power fullback Max Schmaling and Halfback Rex Brock and Earl Heniger as well as Phil Glezek, recently returned to form after being benched with injuries.

To complete the comparison a receiving duel is anticipated between a pair of great ends. Purdue's Bernie Flowers and Michigan's Lowell Perry.

The Big Ten record of each team has been blemished. Purdue was tied 14-14 surprising Minnesota a week ago after defeating Ohio, Iowa and Illinois. Michigan dropped a 22-13 decision to Illinois after whipping Indiana, Northwestern and Minnesota.

Purdue, with losses to Notre Dame and Michigan State and a tie with Penn State, rates a slight non-league edge over Michigan's losses to Michigan State and Stanford and a victory over weak Cornell.

Against that backdrop, both teams will throw everything into the game.

Michigan's honor candidate is Detroit Halfback Ted Kress, whose efforts in all departments have

Prestige Game Of Week For Spartans And Irish

EAST LANSING (AP)—Prestige game of the week would probably be the most correct billing for the Michigan State-Notre Dame football fight here tomorrow.

No bowls are involved and the television cameras won't be peering at the contest but the spectacle has been a sellout since early summer.

Notre Dame's upset of Oklahoma last week has heightened interest to a frenzy. Four national radio networks will supplement the hundreds of sports writers in attendance.

Expect Comeback

Michigan State, the nation's lusty new football champ, will be fighting off a comeback try by the Irish coached by the canny Frank Leahy.

Coach Biggie Munn will be trying for his 23rd straight win and a cinch on the mythical national title. Leahy will be out to prevent a third consecutive Spartan victory in as many years and to wipe out the humiliation of a 35-0 shutout a year ago.

Both squads have been working on new stuff behind locked gates. Some razzle-dazzle play can be expected.

For the individual players, too, there's a lot of prestige involved. Stardom in this game will mean an almost automatic selection as an All-American. This all helps when the pro contracts and coaching jobs are passed out after graduation.

Likely Stars

For Michigan State the passing of Tom Yewcic, the bull-like rushes of Don McAuliffe, the speed of Billy Wells and the defensive know-how of Dick Tambure are most likely to win the limelight.

Notre Dame has one of the rare 60-minute players left in halfback Johnny Lattner, a great defensive star in linetackler Dan Shannon and an able quarterback in Ralph Gugliemi.

Drills tapered off at Michigan State today while at South Bend the Notre Dame sound was scheduled to board a train to arrive here Saturday morning.

Latest forecast is for temperatures in the low 60's by the 1:30 kickoff with the weatherman warning that scattered showers are possible.

Most Valuable Player Award Goes To Shantz

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Pint-sized Bobby Shantz, fortified by the American League's Most Valuable Player Award for 1952, is going to demand a giant-sized increase in his pay check when he sits across the table from General Manager Art Ebers of the Philadelphia Athletics Monday.

The wee left-hander is expected to ask for $35,000, an increase of almost 200 per cent over what he received during the past season for winning 24 games while dropping only seven for the fourth place Athletics.

Shantz's 1952 salary was only $12,000 as he topped the American League pitchers in games won and finished high in the earned-run average column.

Gets Stalled
Bobby sought to talk contract with Ebers last week but the A's general manager told the little hurler:

"Let's not talk contract now. I've got to see X-rays of your broken wrist first. I don't want to sign a pitcher without an arm."

Shantz fractured a left wrist bone in the final week of the past season.

Ebers' refusal to talk contract at that time probably will cost the Athletics several thousand dollars. For since then the 27-year-old southpaw has received the league's highest honor—the first time a non-championship club player has won the award since Ted Williams of Boston in 1949. The last Philadelphia to be honored was Jimmy Fox in 1933.

Shantz received 16 of the possible 24 first place votes cast by two dozen members of the Baseball

Writers Association of America. He rolled up a total of 280 votes for a wide margin over Allie Reynolds, ace of the New York Yankees' pitching staff.

Reynolds Next
Reynolds, third last year, polled 183 points. He was followed by two of his teammates — Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra. Early Wynn of Cleveland, Ferris Fain of the Athletics, Nelly Fox of Chicago and a trio of Cleveland players—Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Al Rosen—round out the first 10.

"I don't want to be unreasonable but I think I am entitled to a pretty good increase," said Shantz. "I realize that the Athletics don't draw as many people as, for instance, the Yankees and Indians, and probably can't afford to pay as much money as I feel I am worth. But taking everything into consideration I don't think I am asking for too much."

Bobby said his arm feels sound again and he is certain he can pick up where he left off when he was hit by a ball thrown by Walt Masterson of Washington while at bat.

Shantz expects the A's to be in the thick of the 1953 pennant race and predicted the Yankees again will be the team to beat.

Marino To Get Title Rematch

TOKYO (AP)—Old Dado Marino, converted from beer to car salesman, says he's in much better shape for his title fight with world flyweight champion Loshio Shirai here tomorrow night.

Marino, a Hawaii-born Filipino admitting 36 years, sold beer right up to the time he brought his world title here last May—and lost it to 29-year-old Shirai on a decision. He indicated he was kind of soft then.

The 15 round championship scrap is scheduled for 8 p. m. (6 a. m., EST) in Korakuen Baseball stadium. Promoters predict a capacity 30,000 crowd.

Shirai, largely because he's champ and seven years the younger, is a 2-3 favorite.

Dado's acting manager, Reggie Ichinose, goes along with the ex-champ on his improved condition. "Dado is an auto salesman now," he said. "That's a big difference from selling beer."

He wouldn't say it right out loud, but it's pretty plain he believes beer association cost him the title.

Grid Season Nears End With Key Tilts On Tap

By RIP WATSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The 1952 college football season, an extravagant production from the opening curtain, moves toward the closing scenes tomorrow with the current bowl game contenders in support roles and two non-bowl teams taking over the center of the stage.

Conference crowns and roles in the Jan. 1 bowl extravaganzas will be awarded the winners of several key games, but all must give way to Notre Dame-Michigan State clash at East Lansing, Mich., as the day's top attraction. Notre Dame pulled the upset of the week last Saturday in toppling Oklahoma, and the big question now is can the Fighting Irish do it again against the nation's No. 1 team.

Want Revenge
Knocking off the nation's best and ending a 22-game winning streak are not the only incentives for Notre Dame, however. State's hard-running stable of backs ran up a 35-0 score on the Irish last year, and that's the worst drubbing ever handed a Frank Leahy team.

Notre Dame could skyrocket its present sixth-ranking with a victory.

For the second straight week, football fans who like to watch from their living room instead of a stadium seat will see a top-notch contest. After watching Notre Dame and Oklahoma last week, the stay-at-homes will see Sugar Bowl-bound Georgia Tech against Alabama. "Bama, the last team to defeat Georgia Tech, 22 games ago in 1950, has not been in a bowl game since 1948, but a victory over the nation's second-ranked team would give the team something to do next New Year's Day.

Southern Flavor
Two other games that have a direct bearing on the eventual bowl line-up are slated for the Southland. Maryland, No. 3 in the country, meets an undefeated but twice-tied Mississippi team anxious to become the school's first bowl representative since 1936. Maryland, barred from the bowls by a Southern Conference edict, is a two-touchdown favorite. Tennessee, No. 7 in the AP poll, takes on Florida, which has never been in a New Year's Day game. Tennessee is talked of as a favorite for the Cotton Bowl and Florida would be a natural for the Orange Bowl.

Out on the Pacific Coast, Southern California must get by Washington to keep its record perfect for the big clash next week with UCLA. If Southern Cal lives up to its fifth place ranking tomorrow, the game with fourth-rated UCLA will determine the coast entry in the Rose Bowl, grand-daddy of the bowl classics. UCLA has an open date tomorrow.

Big Ten Climax
The other entry likely will be determined tomorrow at Ann Arbor, Mich., where Purdue, No. 10 in the poll, invades Michigan in the Big 10's climax game. Purdue is 3-0 in the conference and Michigan 3-1. Wisconsin, also 3-1, is heavily favored over Indiana.

The Cotton Bowl host, an automatic reservation for the Southwest Conference champion, will be Texas if the league leaders can get past old rival Texas Christian. But TCU has beaten Texas in upsets before and could do it again. Texas is No. 9 in the poll.

Another conference championship due to be settled, although the winner won't be eligible for bowls, is that in the Big Seven. Missouri, which has won four league games in a row, is a three-touchdown underdog tovengeful Oklahoma, winner of three straight conference games after an opening loss to Colorado. Oklahoma is No. 8 in the poll.

3 In Court For Early Hunting

Pleading guilty to a charge of headlighting, Gunnard Pearson, Rock, was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs of $7.80 upon arraignment before Justice of Peace A. T. Sohlberg. Pearson was the fourth member of a quartet arrested Nov. 2. The three others were arraigned previously. All pleaded guilty.

Lawrence Bunno, Brampton, was brought before Justice Sohlberg to answer to a charge of having a shotgun and buckshot in the woods during the 5-day period immediately preceding the opening of the season for taking deer with firearms. Bunno also was fined $25 and paid court costs of $7.80.

Nick Pinar, Wells, pleaded guilty to having a loaded rifle in his auto and was assessed $25 and costs of $7.80 by Justice Sohlberg. All three arrests were made by Conservation Officer Glenn Price of Gladstone.

$3,300 Contributed In Community Chest

As of Thursday a total of $3,277.36 has been contributed towards Gladstone's quota of $4,500 in the current Community Chest drive.

There are still a few envelopes not turned in that are in the hands of business area canvassers and Chairman Wallace C. Cameron requests they be turned in immediately so that the house-to-house canvass in the residential area may be made.

Gladstone residents who have contributed through industry or business are requested to display their stickers so that canvassers will not call at their homes. This will speed up the remaining work considerably. All homes not displaying stickers will be called upon.

Arrest Two For Illegal Venison

Possession of the carcass of a yearling buck got two Gladstone residents into trouble Thursday.

The two are Mrs. Luella Ne-deau and Mary Hardwick of 320 Wisconsin avenue. Their auto was stopped by Michigan State Police in a routine check of autos at a blockade set up to check for the two escaped convicts from the prison honor farm at Mangum.

There was something in the back of the auto covered with a blanket and when troopers removed the covering to check and see if it was a person they found a small buck deer.

The matter was brought to the attention of the conservation department and Conservation Officer Glenn Price, Gladstone, made arrests on charges of illegal possession of venison.
